Admiral Togo Reports Sinking One Vessel and Damaging Two.

CZAR'S MEN RETREAT

Kuropatkin Trying to Avoid a Battle With Combined Forces of Kuroki and Oku.

MIKADO'S ARMY IN KAI-CHAU

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

TOKYO, June 25.—Admiral Togo reports an engagement at Port Arthur last Thursday in which a battleship of the Peresviet type was sunk and a battleship of the Sevastopol type and a first class cruiser of the Diana type were damaged The Japanese fleet was practically undamaged.

It is reported that the Port Arthur fleet came out of the harbor Thursday and engaged the Japanese fleet.

Berlin, June 25.—Col. Gaedke, the correspondent of the Tageblatt in the far east, telegraphing from the Russian headquarters, says that on June 22 the Japanese occupied Kai-Chau, and that a decisive battle of the united armies of Gen. Oku and Gen. Kuroki with the Russian main army is expected shortly.

SHAN-HAI-KWAN, June 24.—(Special.)—The Russians are in full retreat from the Liao-Tung peninsula and are making arrangements for the hasty withdrawal of the troops at Niuchwang, according to reports reaching here today. The Japanese army is steadily approaching Kai-Ping and is meeting with little resistance. Japanese scouting parties have been seen within a few miles of Ta-Schi-Tao and Hai-Cheng, on the railroad, and they are reported to be in force at Tang-Shi and Chi-Mu-Cheng. According to the reports reaching here, Kuropatkin has instructed Stakelberg to join him at Hai-Cheng without loss of time, checking the Japanese advance with his cavalry and field artillery, as much as possible, so as to give time for the removal of the stores and munitions now at Kai-Chow and Niuchwang.

The fighting for the past few days has nowhere been more than heavy skirmishing between outposts. From Siu-Min-Ting it is reported that Kuropatkin already is moving his heavy impedimenta back to Mukden and Tie-Ling, and, while he has a strong force at Hai-Cheng, he is devoting his whole energy to keeping back Kuroki's force from the railroad, so as to give Stakelberg a chance to join him, when his plan is to fall back slowly to Liao-Yang first, and then, if necessary, to Mukden or Tie-Ling.

TOKYO, June 24.—(Special Cable.)—Gen. Kuroki is not only threatening Kai-Cheng, but his right wing is closing in on Liao-Yang from the northeast. He already, according to semi-official advices received here, has taken possession of the Si-Chao pass, north of Mi-Matse and has defeated Rennenkempf's Cossacks.

News from the left wing of Kuroki and Oku and Nodzu's commands, so far as the disposition of the troops is concerned, is not made public by the war of-

THREE CHANGES IN THE CABINET

Appointments of Moody, Morton and Metcalf Announced.

PAYNE IS TO RETIRE

Cortelyou Will Become Postmaster General After the November Election.

PRESIDENT'S TRIBUTE TO KNOX

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.

The changes in President Roosevelt's cabinet on July 1, when Secretary Moody will be transferred to the department of justice as the successor of Attorney General P. C. Knox, Paul Morton becomes secretary of the navy and Victor H. Metcalf secretary of the department of commerce and labor, will be followed by the retirement of Henry C. Payne from the postoffice department.

It is understood among officials of the administration that Mr. Payne's health is such that his physicians have advised him not to return to his official duties, but to go to a health resort and remain there at least through the rest of the summer. Should the postmaster general decide that his health will not permit him to remain in the cabinet, it is thought that President Roosevelt will designate Robert J. Wynne, first assistant postmaster general, as acting postmaster general until after the election in November, when the vacancy will be filled by the appointment of George B. Cortelyou. Mr. Cortelyou resigned the position of secretary of the department of commerce and labor to become chairman of the Republican national committee, with the understanding that he was to be appointed postmaster general upon Mr. Payne's retirement.

Mr. Morton Hesitated.

The announcement that Paul Morton had accepted the appointment of secretary of the navy was a surprise to Mr. Morton's friends in official quarters in Washington, as he is said to have informed some of them that he preferred his present position in the railroad business to a place in public life. It was also stated today that he did not fully decide to accept until he discussed the subject with President Roosevelt last night, when Mr. Roosevelt strongly urged him to do so. The president, it is understood, is anxious to have in the cabinet a representative of the business interests of the country.

When Mr. Morton hesitated on account of his lack of special knowledge of naval affairs, Mr. Roosevelt explained that such knowledge could be acquired without great difficulty, and added that the duties of secretary were largely administrative, and that for such work he was especially qualified. The president first became well acquainted with Mr. Morton about two years ago when his train went over a part of the Santa Fe system. It is generally believed that the business interests will be gratified by Mr. Morton's appointment, and that it will

MRS. MAYBRICK TO COME TO AMERICA IN JULY

After Release in England She Will Testify in Lawsuit in This Country.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Mrs. Florence Maybrick, the American woman, whose long imprisonment in England for the murder of her husband has been an international question, is now at the Home of the Sisters of the Epiphany in Truro, England, and will be released probably in July.

She was taken from prison several months ago to this retreat in order that her liberation might be as unostentatious as possible. The duchess of Bedford was most influential in obtaining her release. Samuel V. Hayden, an attorney of this city, is now in England and will probably bring Mrs. Maybrick to this country to testify in suits involving the ownership of $2,500,000 worth of land in West Virginia and Kentucky.

This property was inherited by Mrs. Maybrick and her mother from her father, W. Chandler of Mobile, Ala. Her mother later married Baron von Roques. The proprietorship was much complicated by numerous transfers, and although many depositions were taken from Mrs. Maybrick, the litigation was never ended.

FRANCIS OFFERED PLACE.

Story from St. Louis That John H. Martin Promises Him Support of Tammany.

ST. LOUIS, June 24.—(Special.)—John H. Martin, formerly street cleaning commissioner of New York, on behalf of Tammany, asked President Davis R. Francis of the world's fair, to consent that his name go before the Democratic convention in St. Louis for president of the United States.

Martin, it is understood, was entrusted with this commission from Leader Murphy of Tammany.

The gossip at the New York state building was that President Francis had given his consent. The plan, as broached by Tammany, is for representatives of the most frequently mentioned candidate for the nomination to make a fight for that candidate, and then at the last moment, agree on Missouri's ex-governor.

President Francis, asked as to the story, simply smiled and would not say a word.

MILLIONAIRE CABMAN TELLS HOW HE GOT RICH

Studied Books on Industry and Finance Eight Years Before Going Into Market.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 24.—"Buy when times are panicky, and sell during a boom. You can't help grow rich then."

This was the advice today of James Hebron, the millionaire cabman, who is suing Frank Work, retired broker, to recover $9,270 for a cab bill and the profits in a stock deal.

"I was born in Roscommon, Ireland, and started with Delmonico's in 1877." "Many of my fares were Wall street men. I became convinced there was lots of money down there if one worked legitimately. I read books on finance, on railroads, on agriculture, on business. At the end of eight years I thought I was in a position to make use of my knowledge and I began to operate in the stock market. I got tips from some of my customers, and it was not long before I grew rich.

"However, most of my operations were based on my own opinions. I avoided shaky enterprises and did not have a business setback in years. Any man can do what I have done, provided he is healthy and does not let the get-rich-quick fever run away with him."

MATRIMONIAL AGENCIES THE SUBJECT OF WAR

Government Closes Two of These Concerns Operating in Several Cities.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 24.—War against fraudulent matrimonial agents has been declared by the postoffice department. Two of these concerns, which have been operating recently in several large cities, including New York, Boston and New Orleans, were today denied the use of the mails by the issuance of fraud orders. Acting Postmaster General Wynne said that while this did not mean any general exclusion from the mails for matrimonial agencies, all complaints against such institutions, of which many are being received, would be promptly investigated and exclusion would follow the least evidence of fraud.

Fraud orders were issued for several patent medicine concerns also and all of the orders are a part of the systematic crusade which was begun against certain classes of swindlers by the department a few weeks ago.

WILL RAISE THE OHIO.

Government Officials' Plan to Get Kanawha Coal to Southern Markets.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., June 24.—One million and sixty-eight thousand bushels of coal were locked through lock No. 11 yesterday and today. Every towboat available is being sent to the mouth of the river tonight to await an artificial rise planned by the government officials. The rise in the Ohio will not be enough to float the coal barges, and either Saturday or Sunday every pool above dams 6 to 11 will be drained to create the necessary stage in the Ohio.

It is estimated that stripping these movable dams will raise the Ohio nearly four feet at the mouth of the Kanawha and allow about 2,000,000 bushels to move to southern markets.

North Carolina Delegates Uninstructed.

GREENSBORO, N. C., June 24.—The Democrats of North Carolina today nominated Robert B. Glen for governor and Francis D. Winston for lieutenant governor. A resolution was passed instructing the delegates to the national convention to vote as a unit on all matters coming before them, but otherwise they will go uninstructed.

FRANCE WILL SEND WARSHIP TO HAITI

Germany to Demand Apology for Stoning of Minister—Letter to French Representative.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARIS, June 24.—Following a meeting of the council of ministers today, it was officially announced that the government intended to send a warship to Haiti to demand redress for the insult to Minister Deprez, who was stoned by the palace guards on Wednesday. This decision followed Foreign Minister Delcasse's presentation of the circumstances of the assault to the council. The officials do not attach undue seriousness to the affair, particularly, as has been noted, Germany has not shown a purpose of acting energetically. The nature of the redress which the warship will demand is not yet announced.

BERLIN, June 24.—The foreign office treats the stoning of the German minister at Port Au Prince calmly and is disposed to regard it as the work of boys or the idle street populace. The government has not yet determined what steps to take, but a foreign office representative intimated that an apology will be demanded.

PORT AU PRINCE, HAITI, June 24.—The French minister, M. Deprez, has received a letter from the Haitian government apologizing for the action of the palace guard in stoning the minister, while the latter was driving past the palace, Wednesday.

THIRTY BLACK CATS LOST.

House of Hoo Hoos, One of First Buildings Finished at St. Louis Fair, is Burned.

ST. LOUIS, June 24.—Fire, which threatened for a time to destroy many buildings at the world's fair, today consumed the House of Hoo Hoos, rendering the building and contents a total loss. So quickly did the flames spread that the five occupants of the building, all on the second floor, had difficulty in escaping, being compelled to climb down a tree. The loss on the building and contents is estimated at $60,000. The fire is supposed to have started from an electric light wire.

The House of Hoo Hoos was one of the first buildings finished for the exposition. It was erected by the lumbermen of the United States, but under the local board of the Hoo Hoos it was divided into many rooms, constructed of different fine and expensive lumber. Aside from this, there were specimens of rare woods, which were valued highly. It has not been decided yet whether to rebuild.

There were 30 black cats in the building at the time of the fire and these are believed to have perished.

NEED TWO WITNESSES.

Otherwise Nan Patterson Can't Be Convicted, Says Attache of District Attorney's Office.

NEW YORK, June 24.—(Special.)—"Unless J. Morgan Smith and his wife are found by the time Nan Patterson is brought to trial, she will be acquitted of the charge of murder. The prosecution has absolutely no evidence outside of its belief that Smith purchased the revolver which afterward caused Caesar Young's death in a cab on June 4."

This declaration was made today by an attache of the district attorney's office who has been working on the Nan Patterson case.

"We have little hope of finding Smith and his wife," continued the man.

Rebels Beaten; Loss 600.

MONTEVIDEO,, URAGUAY, June 24.—A victory over the insurgents has been won by the government troops at Cerro Largo. Six hundred of the insurgents were killed or wounded. The government cavalry pursued the defeated army.

DROPS TICKET INTO LETTER BOX THEN DROPS HIMSELF INTO BAY

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 24.—Blokolena Tomo arrived at Hoboken from Chicago today to sail on the steamer Pennsylvania tomorrow for a visit to his old home in Poland. Owing to a series of adventures which landed him in a hospital, it is a grave question whether he will be able to continue his journey tomorrow.

Tomo was walking along River street, Hoboken, when his attention was attracted to several people, who were dropping letters into a letter box. Supposing that they, like himself, were about to sail for their native land, he stepped up to a letter box and deposited an envelope which contained his steerage passage. Then he went to the steamship pier and tried to board the steamer, but was held up because he had no ticket.

A heated argument on the pier followed and in the midst of the excitement, he fell into the water. Detective Fred Mesenkopf plunged after the Pole and after a hard struggle rescued him.

The half-drowned man was taken to St. Mary's hospital, where he explained to a surgeon that he had dropped his ticket into the letter box. Word was sent to the postoffice, and when the letter box was opened, Tomo's letter was found and returned to him.

BANDITS FREE PERDICARIS

People of Tangier and Servants Gladly Greet American on Return.

HARDSHIPS SUFFERED

Does Not Blame Raisuli for What He and Varley Endured.

SHEREEFS DO FINE SERVICE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Tangier, June 25.—Ion Perdicaris and Cromwell Varley, who were captured by the bandit Raisuli, have just arrived here. Perdicaris is very much fatigued after his long ride, but says he is glad to get back. He is greatly pleased with the reception accorded him by the townsmen, who met him in great numbers.

Perdicaris suffered many hardships while in the hands of Raisuli, although he says he does not think that these were the fault of the bandit chief, and that he had every comfort possible under the circumstances. Varley appears to be as cheerful and bright as if he had just returned from a picnic. Both Perdicaris and Varley are much thinner, and the former has aged considerably. Perdicaris was received at his town house by the authorities, the admirals of the fleets and numerous personal friends. His Moorish servants made a great demonstration of joy, kissing his hands and clothes.

Much credit is due to the shereefs of Wazan, Mulai Ali and Mulai Hamet, who have devoted much time in their efforts to secure the success of the negotiations. Mulai Ali remained at Raisuli's camp continuously, thus insuring the safety of the lives of the captives, while Mulai Hamet traveled back and forth between Tangier and Benairos. Mulai Hamet says that he arrived at the camp of Zelal, governor of the Beni M'Sara tribe, at 3 o'clock on June 23, but that the captives did not arrive until the morning of June 24.

Nothing unusual occurred during the exchange of the prisoners, who started immediately for their respective homes. The delay in turning over the prisoners was apparently merely a mistake as to the date set for their release.

POSSE IS AMBUSHED AND TWO MEN WOUNDED

Outlaws Open Fire Upon the Sheriff and Deputies in Kentucky.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

JACKSON, KY., June 24.—Word reached here tonight from Cane creek that Sheriff Callahan and his followers who, accompanied by Capt. Milliken of Wilmore with two bloodhounds, are in pursuit of the assassins of Mack White, were ambushed this afternoon and two of their number wounded. The feudists who are opposing the pursuit of the assassins were hidden along the cliffs of the creek and opened fire on the party unawares.

The two bloodhounds were being led by long leather halters in advance of the party and were going at a pretty rapid pace. One of the men holding the hounds was shot through the hip and the other man wounded while riding a horse and just in advance of the sheriff.

The shooting came from several directions and before the sheriff and his posse discovered their assailants they heard hoof-beats in the distant valley, indicating that the men who had fired on them had rode away after firing one volley. Callahan and his men have sent back to Jackson for assistance and say they will make another attempt tomorrow to capture the guilty parties whom they say they know.

LA FOLLETTE MEN LOYAL.

Favor Polling Largest Majority for Roosevelt in State's History.

MADISON, WIS., June 24.—The Republican state central committee, whose members were elected by the state convention which was controlled by the followers of Gov. Robert M. La Follette, held an executive meeting today and tonight.

In addition to the committee, a number of prominent Republicans from various portions of the state were in attendance. The meeting was called to order by State Chairman W. D. Connor. The action of the national convention in Chicago in excluding the La Follette delegates was characterized as high-handed and without justification. It was developed that the general feeling among those present, that the sentiment throughout the state, was in favor of polling the largest Roosevelt and La Follette Republican majority ever cast. Steps were taken for the organization of a state and national campaign in every county in the state.

Mrs. Roosevelt at Oyster Bay.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., June 24.—Mrs. Roosevelt reached this village tonight. When the president arrives a week from tomorrow he will be tendered at least three receptions, possibly four, by the Republicans, the citizens in general, the high school pupils and the pupils of the Cove public school.

Fatal Accident on the Biddle.

NORFOLK, VA., June 24.—While undergoing a test in Hampton Roads today, the United States torpedo boat Biddle, Lieut. Marshal in command, had a serious accident. A boiler valve blew out, perhaps fatally scalding Fireman Warren and Water Tender O'Donnell.

KIND WORDS TO PRESIDENT

Roosevelt Highly Prizes Message from Western Ranger.

A HOOSIER WELCOME

Indiana Will Give Hearty Reception to Vice Presidential Candidate.

FAIRBANKS TO GO ON STUMP

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.

Of all the congratulations that President Roosevelt has received, the following telegram, received today, pleased him most:

CARROLL, IA., June 24.
"Hon. Theo. Roosevelt:
"How? SETH BULLOCK."

Seth Bullock was the sheriff in Deadwood when the president was a rancher at Medora, and he is now captain of the Black Hills rangers. The brief form of the greeting went straight to the president, who directed that it be made public. Seth Bullock evidently wired this congratulation on his way back to South Dakota from the Chicago convention.

Another message which deeply touched the president was the following from Mrs. Marcus A. Hanna, at Wheaton, Ill.:

"Most sincere and hearty congratulations."

He was highly grateful to receive this message from the widow of the only man who was seriously considered besides himself as a possible recipient of the nomination.

Other messages of congratulation were received from H. T. Scott, president of the Union iron works of San Francisco, and from many of the prominent public men at Chicago.

Many Called at White House.

There was a constant stream of callers at the White House to express their congratulations in person. Among them were: Justice McKenna of the supreme court, Representatives Sutherland of Utah, Campbell of Kansas, Hill of Connecticut, Rear Admirals Sands and Lemberton, W. W. Rockhill, chief of the bureau of American republics, Robert J. Wynne, first assistant postmaster general and Assistant Attorney General Robb of the department of justice.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 24.—(Special.)—There will be fireworks in Indianapolis tomorrow night. The whole visible supply has been bought up by the friends of Senator Charles W. Fairbanks, and they will be let off when he reaches home from Chicago tomorrow evening, but it is somewhat doubtful if he will arrive exactly at the appointed hour, as it has been arranged for his train to stop at the stations along the route, and he is also expected to speak to the crowds that gather wherever stops are made. In his party will be Gov. Durbin and Congressmen Crumpacker, Hemenway and Landis, who are sticking pretty close to the tall Indianianian just now, each with the secret hope, it is said, of being adopted as the heir-at-law of the United States senatorship.

Greeting by Neighbors.

Final details for the welcoming home of Senator Fairbanks were completed at a public meeting this afternoon. The senator will be met here by delegations from the Merion, Columbia and Commercial clubs, and the Merchants' association. A public reception will be held on the lawn at the senator's home in North Meridian street. Addresses will be made by Mayor Holtzman; President John W. Kern of the Commercial club, who is being mentioned for the Democratic vice presidential nomination; Senator Beveridge and John L. Griffith. Senator Fairbanks will respond. A delegation will meet the train at Lafayette.

CHICAGO, June 24.—(Special.)—Senator Fairbanks spent the day in the Auditorium hotel receiving congratulations. He had short interviews with Chairman Cortelyou of the national committee and also with Cornelius N. Bliss, in which some tentative plans for the forthcoming campaign were discussed. It was announced afterward that Senator Fairbanks will take the stump as soon as the notification formalities are over, and repeat the campaign President Roosevelt made four years ago, when he was the vice presidential nominee, for the Indiana senator has a reputation as a spellbinder.

"I shall certainly speak if the committee wants me to do so," the nominee for vice president said, when asked today if he would take the stump.

All the politicians who remained in Chicago today were among Senator Fairbanks' callers and the majority of them also called upon Mrs. Fairbanks, and the latter received a number of prominent Chicago women besides. This afternoon Senator and Mrs. Fairbanks paid a visit to the home of ex-Gov. John M. Hamilton, who was one of the senator's earliest friends, they having been born on adjoining farms.

Mr. Cleveland Not Talking.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 24.—(Special.)—Persistent use of his name for renomination has driven former President Cleveland into absolute retirement. He is visible now to only his closest personal friends. He will not receive any other visitors, and a request today for an expression of opinion on the Republican platform met with the most decisive of refusals.

LOOMIS SAID TO HAVE TURNED UP

Paris Dispatch to London Paper Asserts He Has Left for Africa.

STATEMENT FROM BROTHER

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1904, by New York Herald Co.)

LONDON, June 25.—A special dispatch from Paris to the London Morning Leader says: "Uneasiness about Mr. Kent Loomis is removed by the fact that the missing man turned up in Paris yesterday and left in the evening for Northern Africa, his companion being Mr. Collins, son of a well known American journalist."

None of the other London papers contain this.

PARIS, June 24.—The officials here are not seriously apprehensive of the whereabouts of Kent J. Loomis, brother of Francis J. Loomis, the American assistant secretary of state, who disappeared shortly before or after the arrival of the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II. at Plymouth, June 20. Gustave Flamm of San Francisco, a passenger of the Kaiser Wilhelm II., today furnished the American embassy here with a specific statement that he saw Mr. Loomis go down the gang-plank at Plymouth with the other passengers who landed there. William H. Ellis, who accompanied Mr. Loomis from New York, left for Marseilles to proceed to Abyssinia with the treaty, which was with the baggage of Mr. Loomis and was brought here from Cherbourg and placed in the care of Consul-General Gowdy. He has written a statement to a relative of Loomis, which throws no light on the disappearance.

F. Kent Loomis.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Assistant Secretary of State Loomis made the following statement regarding his brother's disappearance:

"My brother was conveying to Abyssinia a sealed tin box containing a copy of the commercial treaty negotiated by Mr. Skinner last autumn and ratified by the senate, and which must be delivered in Abyssinia October next, in order to be operative. He was merely a messenger with no official character taking charge of the package as a favor and without compensation. He was going to Abyssinia on a prospecting and hunting tour. He had been invited to join Mr. Ellis' caravan and was going across the desert with him, Mr. Ellis having made the trip last summer. Mr. Ellis had been instructed to carry the box containing the treaty to Abyssinia, if my brother is not found. The sensational story and speculation hinting that my brother had been thrown overboard is absurd and has nothing to justify it in my estimation. Another word may be added. My brother always has enjoyed sound health. He was cheerful and sanguine and normal in every respect. His habits were excellent, he was contented and happy. I think the suicide theory which has been suggested may be set aside as another impossibility. To my mind one of three things is true: He is alive; he fell overboard accidentally; or he may have been assaulted or killed ashore if he left the boat at Plymouth."

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., June 24.—F. Kent Loomis was a young man just turning his 35th birthday, and resided on St. Mary's avenue, in this city, with his wife of a year and a half and his baby boy of a few months. His home life was a most pleasant and agreeable one, and was often held up as a model by the neighbors. His wife is completely prostrated over the unfortunate affair, and it may result seriously to her.

CLASS DAY AT HARVARD.

Students More Enthusastic Because of Great Baseball Victory Over Yale.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., June 24.—Class day, the greatest festival of the year at Harvard university, was observed today with an enthusiasm which was more marked because of yesterday's baseball victory over Yale.

The seniors, numbering about 500, assembled in front of Holworthy hall and marched to Sanders theater, where the literary exercises were held. Arthur D. Fricke of Davenport, Ia., read the class ode.

Following the usual exercises at the old class tree and the march around the yard by the seniors, all four classes formed in line and marched to the new stadium on Soldiers field, where the afternoon exercises were held for the first time, instead of at the statue of John Harvard, as has been the custom in recent years.

Another innovation this year was the delivery of the ivy oration, hitherto a part of the morning exercises, as a part of the stadium festivities.

CLERKS GET FURLOUGHS.

Pennsylvania Decides It Can Spare Some of Its Philadelphia Employes for Three Months.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 24.—(Special.)—About 500 of the clerks in the general offices of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in this city will be put on a furlough, extending at least three months. As to what other curtailment will be made it cannot be definitely determined until the June payrolls are made up. As far as known, there are to be no further discharges.

In the auditor of disbursements department the clerks are to have five days' vacation each month. This scheme has been adopted, as in this department trained clerks are required at certain periods and it is not advisable to have them take two weeks' vacation at one time.

READY FOR THE CARNIVAL.

Next Tuesday Fifty Per Cent of the Gate Receipts Will be for Charity.

Everything is ready for the midsummer festival and carnival to be held by the building trades council at Wabash park at the end of the Smithfield street bridge, South First and Carson streets, commencing Monday night and ending July 9. In connection with the carnival another move is to be made on Tuesday to assist the sufferers from the disaster to the Gen. Slocum in New York. Fifty per cent of the gross receipts from the main entrance will be donated to the relief fund.

The money will be turned over to Mayor Hays to be forwarded to the proper authorities in New York.

SALVATION ARMY CONGRESS OPENS IN ENGLISH CAPITAL

LONDON, June 24.—The third international congress of the Salvation Army opened tonight with a meeting in Albert hall, which was attended by over 5,000 delegates, representing 49 countries in all parts of the globe. Gen. Booth presided, welcomed the delegates in an extended address and conveyed a welcome from the king. In referring to the Japanese delegation, he prayed that peace might come to Japan. He spoke touchingly of the recent death of his daughter, Mrs. Booth-Tucker.

HEAT CAUSED THREE DEATHS IN THIS VICINITY

Sudden Rise in Temperature Caused Many to Swelter During the Afternoon.

Three deaths were caused by heat in this section yesterday. The sudden rise in temperature locally caused many to swelter, especially during the afternoon, when the maximum of 89 was registered. The maximum yesterday was 8 degrees higher than on Thursday and at noon was 4 degrees higher than the highest mark reached by the official mercury on the day previous. The dead:

JOSEPH CHILDS, aged 71, a former business man of McKeesport, died of heat exhaustion at his home in that city.

JOHN CHILDS, aged 1, died of heat at his parents' home, 69 Arthur street.

FRANCIS BRYZNEOWSKY, aged 1½, died at the home of his parents, 711 White street McKeesport.

Mr. Childs conducted a shoe store in Fifth avenue, McKeesport, for 32 years, and was well known in that city. He retired several years ago. He was a native of England and is survived by his widow and seven children.

During the afternoon the sun's rays beat down over this section and made the day seem unusually hot because of the comparative cool weather which Western Pennsylvania has been experiencing for several weeks. In the downtown streets the heat was intense during the afternoon and every one sought the shady side of the streets to escape the hot sun. The temperature at midnight, Thursday, was 70 and indicated a hot day. During the early morning the mercury fell 8 degress, but from 5 to 7 a. m. it jumped 5 degrees and by 10 o'clock it was at 80. The maximum for the day was 89 and the minimum 64.

Relief from the heat is looked for today, showers and cooler weather from the Rocky mountains being predicted. Thunderstorms are looked for in this section tomorrow.

KAISER WITHDRAWS YACHT ON AMERICAN'S PROTEST

Latter Wins Race—Great Preparations for Reception of the British King.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

KIEL, PRUSSIA, June 24.—Preparations in progress for the reception of King Edward indicate that he will be given a more magnificent welcome than any ever witnessed in Kiel waters. The German imperial yacht Hohenzollern will present the appearance of a tropical palm garden and will be entirely covered by an awning.

There was an early start this morning to view the racing on the open. Emperor William raced the Meteor III., having on board the earl of Lonsdale, the earl of Mar and Kellie, Francis R. Riggs, Robert Goelet, Cornelius Vanderbilt and others. The empress sailed on the Iduna with Crown Prince Frederick William at the helm. The Iduna, however, made a bad start. Meteor III. got on the wrong tack and gave up, owing to a protest from the schooner yacht Ingomar, owned by Morton Plant of New York. The Meteor III. was subsequently towed in, though it is stated that she met with no mishap. The Ingomar won the first prize in class A for schooner cruisers and also the Krupp memorial prize. The Hamburg was second and the Iduna third.

At a banquet given tonight by the emperor and empress, the guests included Crown Prince Frederick William, Prince Eitel Frederick, Prince Albert of Monaca, Count Wolff Metternich, the earl of Dunraven and Frederick W. Vanderbilt.

MRS. PHIPPS STILL HERE.

Next Developments in Divorce Case Are Expected from Denver.

Something of a definite nature with regard to the Phipps divorce case is expected from Denver, where Lawrence C. Phipps and his attorney, Gerald Hughes, are. Former Judge J. H. Reed, the Pittsburgh representative of Mr. Phipps, returned yesterday from New York, but he denied that he had gone to that city in the interest of his millionaire client. He did not see anyone there interested in the case.

Attorney James S. Young, Pittsburgh attorney for Mrs. Phipps, said yesterday that there was nothing to give out at present. He left during the afternoon for Chambersburg, Pa., to be gone for a day or so.

Mrs. Phipps is still at Grandview. Judge Platt Rodgers is expected to reach Denver by this morning. There is said to be nothing in the rumor that James Beck, her New York counsel, will meet P. C. Knox in Philadelphia.

ARRANGE SHEET SCALE.

Independent Manufacturers Will Confer With Amalgamated Association Monday.

The Amalgamated association and the Independent Sheet Mill Operators' association have arranged for a conference next Monday at the Hotel Lincoln. Eight independent sheet mills will be represented. This is according to the custom this year, that the independent manufacturers arrange their scales before the conference with the United States Steel Corporation.

This arrangement means that the tinplate conference being held will close today whether or not a settlement is reached. Both sides put up strong arguments at yesterday's conference, but there were no signs of a settlement. If an understanding is not reached today the matter may be placed in the hands of a conciliatory committee, the same as will be done with the puddlers and finishers' scale with the Republic Iron and Steel Company.

TO AID DELINQUENTS.

Resolution in Allegheny Councils May Change Rates of Interest on Taxes.

At a meeting of Allegheny common council last night John R. Henricks of the Eleventh ward presented a resolution requesting the finance committee to report an ordinance changing the rates of interest on delinquent taxes. As those who are delinquent but a few days are compelled to pay the usual 5 per cent charged to those who allow their delinquency to run the limit of 18 months, Henricks contends that this is unfair. The proposed ordinance is to fix the fees of the delinquent tax collector on the basis of interest charged delinquents. The ordinance providing for a two-year garbage contract was passed finally. A measure was introduced providing for a bond issue of $40,000 for the rebuilding of the city light plant recently destroyed by fire.

Fourth of July Fund.

The Colonial Trust Company and the National Tube Company yesterday contributed $25 each to the Fourth of July fund. The Bindley Hardware Company sent $35, making a total of $3,895 contributed to date. The celebration will cost twice as much.

Disagreement in Moreland Case.

DETROIT, June 24.—After being out 29 hours the jury in the trial of D. W. H. Moreland, former commissioner of public works, reported a disagreement. They were discharged. Mr. Moreland was tried on the charge of appropriating to the use of a contractor 1,735 feet of curbstone valued at $800 belonging to the city.

KUROPATKIN IS RETREATING

fice. The general belief, however, is that the Russians at Kai-Chow will not be able to join Kuropatkin unless they are able to fight their way through a strong Japanese force.

The officials will say nothing concerning conditions about Port Arthur, nor will they confirm the report that additional warships have been sent to operate against the Russian Vladivostok squadron.

The rumor coming from Europe that Marshal Oyama was on one of the transports sunk by the Russian squadron and with his staff was drowned, is denied.

CHEFOO, June 24.—It is reported here today that a Japanese torpedo boat, which had been sent in by Togo to sound the Port Arthur channel preparatory to another attempt to send in fireships to block it, had been sunk by the fire from the forts. Others of the flotilla made their escape under a heavy fire from the Japanese battleships.

Arrivals here from Kai-Chow say that the Russians are preparing to evacuate that place and estimate the number of Japanese closing in on it from the south and east at more than 100,000, with hundreds of guns. Stakelberg now, they say, has no more than 30,000 effective men.

Gen. Sakharoff Reports.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 24.—The general staff received the following telegram from Lieut.-Gen. Sakharoff, under date of June 23:

"At nightfall on June 22 the Japanese vanguard occupied a line four miles north of Senuchen, which extended from the seashore to the mountains through the villages of Siangpaitse, Tangtsin, Litsiatung, Yongtsanatung and Wangtsiaoshang. They established a heliograph station on the heights of Litsiatung. A cordon of infantry with quick firers covered their left flank.

"A Japanese patrol endeavored, unsuccessfully, to penetrate our outposts. The night passed quietly.

"On the morning of June 23 the Japanese resumed the advance, their front extending from Tavaja to the Kantak river. Japanese warships were seen off shore.

"Our vanguards on June 21-22 checked the enemy along the roads from Siu-Yen to Hai-Cheng. Lieut. Enyberts and three Cossacks were wounded.

"The Japanese on June 22 had not moved out of the Chapan pass.

"There is no particular change in the situation on the Feng-Wang-Cheng side, with the exception that the enemy has been strengthened and is building fortifications near the Kaipa pass, 12 miles to the southwest, and is also making roads from Feng-Wang-Cheng in the direction of Selutchang.

"The Japanese have retired beyond Aiyangmen on the Siamatze-Liassian road.

"In a skirmish on June 21 Lieut. Anitchoff and two Cossacks were wounded."

Firing at Port Arthur Continues.

CHICAGO, June 24.—A special to the Daily News from Chefoo says: Another demonstration took place off Port Arthur yesterday. Firing began from the forts about 10 a. m. and continued till 11 p. m. The program was about the same as on the previous day. The destroyers and torpedo boats pursued the same tactics and an auxiliary cruiser lay off the islands until the firing had ceased, when it proceeded eastward at full speed.

At 8:30 o'clock the same evening firing began heavily from the bluff, with much activity of the searchlights, indicating the approach of torpedo craft. A little later the sound of more distant firing was heard, evidently from the land side of Port Arthur, continuing until 2:30 o'clock this morning, with a brief renewal at 5 a. m. During the period there was an almost uninterrupted firing of field guns and volley firing punctuated with crashes as of siege guns.

It is probable that what took place was a general shore action with a naval demonstration. It seems as though the Japanese intend to wear out the defenders by continued night activity before making final simultaneous sea and land attack.

LIAO-YANG, June 24.—Capt. von Lang and 26 volunteer scouts have rejoined the command, arrived here on foot after a hot skirmish with the Japanese rear guard.

Von Lang and his little command started out on horseback to investigate the numbers and movements of the enemy. They rode clear around the Japanese advance and gained important information regarding the Japanese position.

When in the rear of the Japanese main body they were discovered and surrounded by two squadrons of cavalry, but they cut their way through with sabers and poinards, losing five men. Nearly all their horses were scattered. They escaped to the hills, where the Japanese cavalry was unable to follow, and succeeded in rejoining the colors with much valuable information. Reinforcements are constantly arriving at Liao-Yang.

Hot weather has begun.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 24.—The American commercial agent at Vladivostok, Mr. Greener, telegraphs that a supplementary order of the military commander there permits the inhabitants to remain at Vladivostok on condition that they deposit 432 pounds of flour, 72 pounds of buckwheat and 27 pounds of salt as a guarantee of their ability to withstand eventualities.

result in political advantage in the coming campaign.

The appointments of Mr. Moody and Mr. Metcalf created no surprise, as both were decided upon two weeks ago. At the time Mr. Moody was selected for attorney general, it was understood that Mr. Knox would remain in the cabinet until December, when at the opening of the session of congress he would take his seat as senator.

Knox Formally Resigns.

Of the eight members who composed the cabinet when Mr. Roosevelt succeeded President McKinley, only three remain—John Hay, secretary of state; E. A. Hitchcock, secretary of the interior, and James Wilson, secretary of agriculture. It is thought likely that in the event of Republican success in November the cabinet will remain as constituted, with the exception of postmaster general.

Attorney General Knox's letter of resignation and the president's letter accepting it were dated yesterday. Copies of the correspondence were made public this evening. They follow:

Offices of the Attorney, Washington, D. C., June 23, 1904.

Sir: Having been appointed by the governor of Pennsylvania a senator to represent Pennsylvania in the congress of the United States until the next meeting of the legislature of that state, and having accepted said appointment, to take effect July 1, 1904, I hereby tender my resignation as attorney general of the United States, to take effect at the end of the 30th day of the present month.

I cannot by this act terminate the close and confidential relation I have sustained to you during your entire administration without adding a word of sincere appreciation of your more than generous and uniform kindness to me, and a like word of respect and admiration of the lofty purpose and splendid courage you have ever manifested, which has inspired and sustained your cabinet in their efforts to promote the public welfare by effecting the wise policies of your administration. With great respect,

Your obedient servant,
P. C. KNOX,
Attorney General.

The President.

High Compliment to Knox.

White House, Washington, June 23, 1904.

My Dear Mr. Knox: I accept your resignation, not only with keen personal regret, but with a very real feeling of the loss the country thereby sustains. Permit me to add that I do not think I could have made up my mind to acquiesce, however reluctantly, in your leaving your present position had I not also realized the services you could render in the senate.

There is nothing more I can say which will in any way add to the reputation which you have won, and no tribute I can pay you will approach in value that already paid you by the hearty admiration and respect of your fellow citizens. Yet for my own satisfaction I wish to bear testimony to the invaluable work that you have done. During your whole time of service you have had no real holiday. You have never really rested from your exhaustive labor. To your high professional qualities you have added unflagging zeal and an entire indifference to every consideration, save the honor and interest of the people at large.

Many great and able men have preceded you in the office you hold; but there is none among them whose administration has left so deep a mark for good upon the country's developments. Under you it has been literally true that the mightiest and the humblest in the land have alike had it brought home to them that each was sure of the law's protection while he did right, and that neither could hope to defy the law if he did wrong.

In what you have done you have given proof not merely of the profound learning of the jurist, but of the bold initiative and wide grasp of the statesman. You have deeply affected for good the development of our entire political system in its relations to the industrial and economic tendencies of the time.

For all you have done I thank you most earnestly, not only on my own behalf, but on behalf of the public whom you have served with such single minded devotion.

With all good wishes for your future, believe me

Ever faithfully yours,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
Hon. P. C. Knox, Attorney General.

WRECK STORY A HOAX.

Attempt to Derail a Passenger Train Near Wilkinsburg Denied by Officials.

Detectives of the Pennsylvania railroad were busy yesterday investigating a report that an attempt was made to wreck the Pittsburgh express near Wilkinsburg on Thursday night at 6:49 o'clock. As the train was speeding over a "crossover" from one track to another the engine is said to have struck a piece of iron and that previous to this the tower operator saw a man at the cross-over.

"VK" tower operator said last night that he did not notice a man on the tracks. An official of the company gave the following explanation: "The first we knew of it was on Thursday night when a borough officer walked into "WK" tower and reported that an attempt had been made to wreck one of our trains. He did not give the time nor the place. This fact was immediately reported to the train dispatcher."

"We usually investigate such cases," said an official of the company last night, "but investigation this time resulted in nothing. The person who was kind enough to notify our Wilkinsburg man was not able to tell what particular train was going to get it. The story is a hoax. Somebody out there is looking for an annual pass. A good many people pick up pebbles or sticks of timber on the company's right-of-way, say they saved a train from derailment and expect an annual in return."

BIG CROWD HEARD CHARITY MINSTRELS

Pittsburgh Elks Secured Big Fund for Gen. Slocum Sufferers.

Amateur minstrel men, under the auspices of Pittsburgh lodge No. 11 of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, made merry at the Nixon theater last night, and secured a fund aggregating over $700 for the sufferers in the disaster to the steamer General Slocum in New York. This is the largest donation that has been offered to alleviate the distress caused by last week's catastrophe, and a telegram from Mayor George B. McClellan of New York was read from the stage thanking the local Elks for their timely and open-hearted generosity. The money will be turned over to Mayor Hays, who will make a prompt payment to Mayor McClellan.

Last night's show repeated the tremendous success made at the Elks charity benefit last week. The performance was practically the same, with the marked improvement which comes with more frequent rehearsal and the addition of fine specialties. It was an amateur performance in name only. Those who took part showed a familiarity with their business and the sort of enthusiasm which is ordinarily seen only in the seasoned professional. Notwithstanding the torrid weather, a big audience sat until the end and applauded at every opportunity.

During the minstrel first part the enthusiasm was set going by the reading of three characteristic telegrams. President Harry Pulliam of the National baseball league wired Brother Al Cratty that he wanted to register his favor with the Elks cause and requested that a private box be charged to him. Mayor McClellan regretted that he could not attend the performance, and added: "In stricken homes and hearts in New York the name of the Pittsburgh Elks will long be cherished." Grand Exalted Ruler Fanning of the national organization of the Elks, in expressing his regret at being unable to attend, placed the seal of the national order upon the undertaking which the local brethren had enjoined.

Flowers were given in profusion. The commodores of the Pittsburgh Flying Squadron honored Commodore William H. Hahn with a magnificent tribute bearing the insignia of the organization arranged in flowers. Everybody on the stage got a big reception, and deserved it. The show has been voted the best minstrel entertainment that has been seen in Pittsburgh in several years.

Stewart, Avonmore; Martha Buchanon, Marvon; Della Stoever, Ingram, and Frances T. Peterson, Pittsburgh.

To the Studious Investor An Impressive Fact About
SCHWITTER WEST-VIEW
Is the Way It is Selling.
When you come out now ask the conductor to let you off at THE NEW STOP. Get off at the HORSESHOE BEND. The fast selling lots adjoining the OLD STOP OR STATION enthused us to push the completion of the sewerage and boardwalks on another piece of this remarkable property. You ought to see what wonderful sites are offered at $150 in this other piece, and how close they are to the great new traction line. People marvel not a little at how we are doing things. They know that their opportunity is slipping past and are taking advantage of it.
Persons familiar with industrial statistics, who know that Greater Pittsburgh must continue to seek broader territory for her spreading population, who realize that the territory which will be sought most must be attractive and contiguous to the business center, see in Schwitter West-View a location which, more than any other, meets all the requirements.
A residential district, to be eligible to Greater Pittsburgh's inevitable expansion, must have more than mere closeness to downtown Pittsburgh, and more than a traction line which touches some parts of it and is very far from other parts of it. It must have a traction line that touches all parts of it—one that you won't have to walk five or six squares to—one that will be in front of your home or a few steps from it—one that was built with a view to giving all of the residents equally convenient trolley car service.
That is the sort of trolley car service you will get at Schwitter West-View. AND MORE. You will get it from the finest trolley line that was ever built. The greatest traction engineers of Illinois, Ohio, New York State and the New England States say that our great Manifold Motor Line is unquestionably the finest trolley line that has yet been established in America. It is the only line in a great city that has been able to control so much valuable private right-of-way. Therefore, it will be able to run at any speed it deems best for the public good, and now, upon reaching its private right-of-ways, flys at the rate of 45 miles an hour, on safety tracks and a T-railed road, that are admired by every traction expert who has ever witnessed the sight.
Take a Car Marked West-View, East St. and Madison Ave. at Liberty Ave. and 7th Street.
When the loop through Bellevue is completed you can take cars going either direction, which practically gives Schwitter West-View TWO great traction lines.
But Schwitter West-View's remarkable trolley line would not appeal to investors so marvelously if the property was not the finest that NATURE and CAPITAL had ever created. The asphalt paved streets, the sand-filtered water from the largest standpipe system in Western Pennsylvania, the high-grade sewerage in all the streets, and the big arc electric lights which keep the highways at night almost as bright as day are of magnitude and completeness no one ever saw before on a new property.
All this on a plan, with prices as low as $50, $75, $100, $150 and $200, is more of a surprise than experienced investors can get over in a little while. It makes folks realize that there are substantial reasons for the building activity that's going on over in Keating West-View Nos. 1 and 2, which were the beginning of this grand new residential city.

New Letters By Hawthorne
The centennial celebration of Nathaniel Hawthorne's birth comes on July 4. This lends special interest to a series of newly discovered letters written by Hawthorne to his friend Ticknor, while Hawthorne was consul at Liverpool, during the years when British-American war clouds hung upon the horizon. These letters are full of playful humor and interesting anecdote. They will be printed for the first time tomorrow in

BIGELOW WINS AND DIRECTORS FAVOR THE REMOVAL OF THE HUMP

Chamber of Commerce Engineers Estimate Total Cost of $2,841,057.

BIGELOW OMITTED LARGE ITEM

The action of the directors of the chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon in adopting resolutions recommending the removal of the Fifth avenue hump was virtually a victory for Director Bigelow and a defeat for ex-Councilman W. H. Stevenson, who has been leading the movement against Bigelow's project. The directors also approved the report of the engineers employed to give an estimate of the cost of the improvement, their estimate of the total cost being $2,841,057.

Director Bigelow is asking the people to vote but $2,000,000, but the resolutions adopted by the directors declare that if allowances are made for damages waived by property owners and the portion of the expense assumed by the public service corporations, that the cost of the work will be within Director Bigelow's figures.

The largest part of the expense of the improvement, in the opinion of the engineers of the chamber of commerce, will be in the excavation on private property and the lowering of buildings to meet the new grades of the street, the amount of this estimate being $1,695,476. Director Bigelow gives no estimate for this work. With the exception of this new item in the report of the chamber of commerce the estimates for the removal of the hump are all below those of Director Bigelow instead of being higher, as anticipated.

Some Items Are Ommited.

The estimate of $1,695,476 for the excavation on private property and the lowering of buildings to meet the new street grades is supposed to represent the amount of damages to private property which the city will have to pay, exclusive of the cost of house connections with water and gas mains.

Neither does the total estimate of $2,841,057, given by the chamber of commerce, include the cost of laying new water mains and new sewers to replace the old mains and sewers which are rendered unfit, by long service, for further use. The estimate for excavation on private property and the lowering of buildings is only for the portion of the hump district in which waivers of damages have not been signed.

A special meeting of the chamber of commerce has been called for next Thursday afternoon to consider the action taken yesterday by the board of directors.

The recommendation favorable to the hump removal was taken immediately after Stevenson's special committee, appointed to secure estimates, had made its report with the report of the engineers. The committee offered no recommendations, except that its report be published, which was granted.

Lower Than Bigelow's Estimates.

With the exception of the omission of any estimate for damages to private property in Director Bigelow's estimates each item in the estimates of the chamber of commerce are lower than Bigelow's. A summary of both estimates will show this:

By Bigelow—Street work, $1,129,699; readjusting properties of corporations, $536,500; total, $1,666,199.

By Chamber of Commerce—Street work, $820,274; readjusting properties of corporations, $325,307; excavating private property and lowering buildings, $1,695,476; total, $2,841,057.

Even if the public service corporations assume the whole expense of lowering their mains and conduits and relaying their tracks and if the amount estimated for this work is deducted from the total estimate of the chamber of commerce the balance is over $500,000 above the amount of bonds that Bigelow is asking the people to vote.

In their estimate of the cost of excavating on private property and lowering buildings the engineers stated that they excepted the following properties:

That property bounded by Diamond street, Grant street, Sixth avenue and Cherry alley; also the block bounded by Cherry alley, Diamond street, Smithfield street and Fifth avenue (excepting the property of the Anchor bank and the Methodist Protestant church), also the United States Government building, Third avenue and Smithfield street, the Telephone building, Fourth avenue and Cherry alley; Public Safety building, Sixth avenue; C. Siagle property, Sixth avenue and Garland alley; Denny estate, in Grant street from Seventh avenue to Strawberry alley, and all buildings fronting in streets that are at grade on the outline of the entire district; also excluding the courthouse, jail and morgue.

Why Court House Was Excluded.

Col. Logan asked why the county buildings had been excluded. Engineer C. A. Cooper who, with W. R. Browne was employed to make the estimates, said that his firm did the surveying for the new court house and he said it was built with the intention of having the front terraced. He said the top of the foundation of the court house at Diamond and Grant streets would be 6.21 feet above the new surface of the street and admitted that a wall would have to be built around the court house, but this wall was a necessary part of the completion of the court house and the expense should be borne by the county.

The engineers stated that the excavation in the hump area would be about 50 per cent in solid rock, this rock area lying south of a line drawn from the corner of Fourth avenue and Smithfield street to the corner of Seventh and Webster avenues, this being about the base of Grant's hill.

The engineers stated that the excavation necessary to bring the buildings to the new grades would be exceedingly difficult because it must be done under existing buildings which must be sustained by timbering until new foundations are ready to receive the buildings, more particularly where the excavation must be in rock. It is also pointed out that the changing of the grades will make the lowering of buildings difficult because of party walls. The following are the estimates of the engineers:

In its report to the board of directors the Stevenson committee was decidedly pessimistic, but refrained from making any recommendations either for or against the hump removal. It calls attention to the fact that the engineers' estimate of the cost of excavating on private property and lowering buildings does not include a large area of property for which the owners have waived damages.

Attention is also called to the exclusion of the court house, jail and morgue, to the fact that the engineers made no allowance for temporary protection of property during the progress of the work nor the cost of maintaining telephones, telegraphs and fire protection. The committee says that the cost of new water mains and sewers should be taken into consideration; also, the loss of rents, vitiated insurance, cost of plumbing to connect buildings with the mains, and the loss of business to those affected.

Resolutions Favor Hump Removal.

James H. Willock presented the following resolutions favoring the hump removal, which were adopted:

Whereas, Messrs. Brown and Cooper, competent engineers, employed by the chamber of commerce to investigate and report the cost of the work, not only of that chargeable to the city, but also the cost of the abutting private property affected in the same relation to the new grade that it now bears to the present grade of the streets, have reported that the approximate cost to the city and individuals will not exceed $2,841,057, which is made up as follows: Cost to city within street lines, $820,274; cost to public service corporations within street lines, $325,307; cost of excavating on private property within block lines of the hump, including the lowering of buildings, etc., $1,695,476; total, $2,841,057; and,

Whereas, it is self-evident that if the proper allowances be made for the damages which have been waived by the property owners and for the portion of the expense which will be assumed by the public service corporations, either voluntary or under the law, that the cost of the work to the city will be well within the estimate made by the department of public works; therefore, be it

Resolved, First, that the chamber of commerce reaffirm its action of January 27, 1902, "that the removal of the hump will undoubtedly be a public benefit."

Second, That the estimates given to the public by city officials of the probable expense to the city for its proportion of the cost of removing the hump are reasonably accurate and the cost of the work will not be excessive.

Third, That the city should proceed with the work as soon as practicable and insure its completion with the least possible delay.

Prison Board Trying to Scale Down Architect Osterling's Estimates on Cost of Jail.

The Allegheny county prison board wrestled two hours with the problem of reducing Architect F. J. Osterling's estimate of the cost of the new addition to the county jail. The architect's estimates go away above $400,000.

The board met in the court house and with the architect went over the 68 typewritten pages of specifications, but they did not wade very far into the figures before it was found to be impracticable to have the whole work done by the board. In consequence it was decided to turn the task over to a special committee, to report at a meeting of the board. The committee consists of Judge R. S. Frazer, Sheriff James W. Dickson, County Commissioners J. Carson Mercer and James Evans. The warden of the jail, Edward Lewis, was at the meeting of the board and will meet the special committee.

It is understood that the judges of the courts of common pleas, who are members of the prison board, are determined to scale the cost of the proposed jail improvements down to $400,000. Although the architect receives the usual architect's commission on the cost of the improvements, some persons insist that he would like to accommodate the judges, although he thinks just now that the estimates and specifications provide only for improvements that are necessary to equip the jail for the demands upon its space and facilities.

MORE MONEY IS NEEDED.

Lives of Many Children May Be Saved During the Hot Months.

The Pittsburgh and Allegheny Sterilized Milk and Ice association is making final arrangement for the distribution of milk to the children of the poor during the summer. For the present calls for milk will be received at the Walker-Gordon laboratory, 3516 Fifth avenue. Bishop Whitehead, Rabbi Levy and Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young are endeavoring to secure larger contributions, and the association room, 503 Bijou building, is a scene of conference on plans almost every day. Dr. Young said yesterday: "What we most need is a little hot weather before all the people with large pocketbooks go out of town. During the past 21 months we have had very little excessive heat, and our well-to-do people are not in a frame of mind to appreciate the deadly results of the hot weather which is before us and its fearful suffering for the children of the poor. The milk the association provides would, if furnished to all, prevent probably one-half the deaths among the children of the Greater Pittsburgh during the summer."

While larger sums are being sought, the association is making a special point of requesting the people to send in any amount, even though it be exceeding small, and to send it in at once.

LARKIN DECLARES PAPERS ILLEGAL

Controller Will Go to Court to Block Agreement With New Depositories.

TREASURER TO BE ENJOINED

Controller Larkin will apply to court for an injunction to restrain the city treasurer from transferring the funds of the city from the present depositories to those recently appointed by the finance committee and councils. The controller has decided to take this step since the approval by common council on Thursday night of the agreements of the city with the four newly elected depositories.

These agreements were approved by common council without being read and without any knowledge of the contents of the papers. It is also a fact that the finance committee approved the bank agreements without having the papers read.

The controller will take legal action on the ground that both the bank agreements and the resolution appointing the banks were acted upon illegally by both the finance committee and councils. The controller will not institute proceedings until the close of the year, near the expiration of the present contract and when the city treasurer intends to transfer the funds from one bank to another.

The present contract expires January 31, 1905, and Treasurer Frauenheim has signified that on the day following he will obey councils and transfer the funds of the city to the new depositories. Controller Larkin considered two methods of making a fight—by getting an injunction to restrain Mayor Hays from signing the agreements with the banks, or by restraining the city treasurer from transferring the funds—and he decided in favor of the latter method.

The agreements will be approved next week by the select council and will go to the mayor for his signature. The mayor has expressed the opinion that the action on the band resolution was illegal because it had not taken the course of other bills, and for this reason the mayor vetoed the firemen's resolution. Notwithstanding these facts, the mayor is prepared to sign the agreements to carry into effect a resolution which he claims is illegal.

Today the Great Millinery Event of the Season.

Last evening we gave the news to the people of Pittsburg without comment or description of any kind. Simply a short resume of prices. Today space forbids even a list of the entire line of prices, but we have this to say: If you want a new hat or a number of them, whether it be an elegant hat for dress, a neat street hat, or a hat for seashore wear, get it today, by all means. Stripped of all persiflage we let the former and present prices tell their own story. And we know you will agree with us they tell it most forcefully.

The goods have been divided into ten lots, but we will quote only a few prices and those but briefly—

Untrimmed Hats, made hats, if you please, of finest Chenille and Braid and Velvets—their counterparts sold for $8.00, $8.50 and $10.00, select today at $2.25.

Another lot is made up of neat stylish Trimmed Hats, suitable for wear with shirtwaists—suit hats, as they are called—their counterparts sold for $1.50, $1.75 and $2.00. Select today at 65c.

In Untrimmed Hits you will find the most stylish of shapes, decidedly chic and up-to-date—their counterparts sold for 75c, $1.00 and $1.25. Select today at 35c.

TRIMMINGS—All the accessories that go to make handsome millinery will be here for even greater reductions than the hats. Braids, Nets, Chiffons, Velvets, Buckles, Feathers and Birds, which were marked to one-half of their original figures early last week are subjected to a still further and greater reduction of ¾ of the half prices, or about one-eighth of what you would have paid first of the season.

VERY SPECIAL—We have just arranged three or four immense trays filled with every sort of artificial flower that is made. There are also many of the different fruits used for trimming. Each and all is perfect. All the fruits and flowers sold formerly for 50c, today we say select bunches at........ 15c

About Men's Straw Hats.

We have the right sort, gentlemen. If you haven't already donned your straw, do so at once, by all means. Custom doesn't give you as many weeks to wear them as have the ladies, therefore it behooves you to make good use of the time she does permit straw hats on masculine heads. Nor do men have the same variety as women, although when you look over our stock you'll decide there is quite enough variety for you. All styles that men like, everything conservatively fashionable, nothing freakish in straw or shape.

Note the difference between the prices quoted today and those named earlier in the season—

At $1.45 from $2.50 and $3.00, for Sennet Braids or Split Yachts.

At $2.00, $3.00 and $4.00, the finest yachts that can be produced in Swiss and China Braid.

At $1.50, $2.00 and $3.00, Soft Straws, the coolest sort of hat man ever put on his head.

We still have a number of Tan Derbies at $1.65 from $4.00. Among them the famous London Red Cross Derby, noted for its light weight—effected by men who don't care for straw hats.

Children's Hats

One-Third and One-Half Off.

A splendid selection at 75c to $3.00—the very latest things for these young people of tender years. For example, the very popular Middy Hats. The reduction named applies to all Children's Hats, from the most inexpensive to the finest.

Fine Candies for Common Prices.

Where else can you buy a pound of really fine confectionery for less than a half dollar the pound? Yet we have ever so many varieties that we can offer for 25c a pound.

Cocoanut Caramels, 25c a pound.
Fruit Flavor Crystals, 20c a pound.
Toasted Marshmallows, 25c a pound.
Chocolate Marshmallows, 35c a pound.
Napoleons, 35c a pound.
Half-Pound Boxes of Marshmallows, 15c each.
At the Fountain — Frosted Coffee — Strawberry and Pineapple Bousha—Colonial Sundae—Limeade and Angostura Lemonade.

Novelties for the Fourth.

The Wherewith for Childish Amusements.

Now that the weather is fine, the children delight in getting out of doors, and consequently need new toys suitable for out-of-door play.

Garden Sets composed of four pieces 25c, reduced from 50c.

Dolls' Go-Carts and Carriages—the most complete line in the city for interestingly low prices.

China Tea Sets, regularly $1.25, today 65c.

Wooden Wagons and Buckboards at 25 per cent off. That means you can select from a line ranging from $1.50 to $6.00, and save one-quarter of the usual price.

Saturday, June 25, 1904.

The Gazette desires to call the attention of those of its readers who contemplate summer trips to the announcements of the many summer resort hotels published on page 12 of this issue.

France will send a warship to Haiti to demand redress for the insult to Minister Deprez. The United States will also send a warship there and will second the demand of France, or at least lend its moral support to the demand. If the Haitien authorities are wise they will make proper amends without parley or nonsense, and if they do not we shall be glad to see France teach them a lesson. They have had a long enough enjoyment of independence to have learned a few voluntary lessons in good manners. But if they have failed to improve their opportunities they must be taught, even against their will.

Following the reduction in westbound steamship rates that has precipitated a flood of undesirable immigration upon this country, a cut is now announced in eastbound rates that may induce some of our newly acquired citizens to leave us and make room for the new arrivals. In this matter the wish may be father to the thought, but surely a steerage rate of $20 from New York to Mediterranean points is a strong temptation to those who are temporarily out of employment and who have saved a little money. They can go home and wait for the good times to come again in America, at less expense than if they stay here.

Secretary Hay's tart demand has had its immediate result. Ion Perdicaris and Cromwell Varley have been released and have arrived at Tangier, the former very much fatigued by his journey, but both well and unharmed. This very rapid action suggests that there may have been a closer bond between the bandit Raisuli and the sultan of Morocco than has been supposed. At any rate, the abrupt demand of the American government for its citizen alive or the bandit dead has had the happy result of producing the citizen alive and at once. Mr. Perdicaris is to be congratulated and the United States has added something to its prestige as an energetic nation in the protection of its citizens and their interests.

History is already being rapidly made in that little new territory of the United States, distinguished as yet by no more pretentious title than that of "the canal zone." An order issued by Secretary Taft makes the provisions of the Dingley tariff act applicable to the strip, and opens its ports to the nations of the world. The close ties which bind this wheel within a wheel to its surrounding neighbor, the republic of Panama, were emphasized by the statement that the governor of the zone and the president of Panama would join hands in measures to keep out smugglers. Moreover, while the Dingley law is to be applied in the strip as rigidly as to foreign countries as it is in the United States, it could hardly be expected that the lines would be drawn as taut against the little republic on whose bosom the zone rests. Therefore the government is authorized to make a tentative agreement with Panama respecting reciprocity trade relations, and a new tariff schedule, subject to consideration by the commission, will soon be drawn up.

President Roosevelt has accepted the resignations of Attorney General Knox and Secretary Cortelyou, to take effect July 1, and has announced that he will appoint Secretary William H. Moody of the navy department to be attorney general, Victor H. Metcalf of California to be secretary of commerce and labor and Paul Morton to be secretary of the navy. On the heels of these changes comes the news that Postmaster General Payne will retire very soon, on advice of his physician. The department will be managed for the time being by R. J. Wynne, and after election George B. Cortelyou is to become postmaster general. President Roosevelt has been fortunate in holding so many members of his predecessor's official family for so long, and he is now fortunate in making new dispositions of them. The new men come with excellent recommendations, except that Mr. Morton was, until recently, a Democrat.

The Hump Removal Cost.

While the board of directors of the chamber of commerce favors the immediate removal of the hump, it does so with its eyes open and a clear understanding that the job will cost more than has been estimated and more than the proposed bond issue provides for. The report submitted by the engineers estimates the total cost of work in the streets at $1,145,580, of which $325,307 represents the expense of readjusting the property of the public service corporations. The total cost of excavations on private property and lowering of buildings is estimated at $1,695,476, making a grand total of $2,841,047. This grand total takes no account of consequential damages, which the experts say they cannot estimate, and owing to the failure of Director Bigelow to give the committee information asked for it probably does not allow for all waivers of cost and damages.

These figures are probably as accurate as a preliminary estimate can be made of the actual cost of necessary work. They exceed Director Bigelow's estimate of total cost by $841,000. If we deduct the $325,000 for the public service corporations there is yet a discrepancy of $500,000 and more. This without counting damages. On this basis the public may take it for granted the total cost will be between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000. If the people consider it worth that they can vote the bonds and pay the bill. But they should not count on having less than that to pay in the end.

Meantime it is up to Director Bigelow as before to definitely enlighten the public as to what waivers and releases he has. His treatment of the chamber of commerce committee in the matter was not very courteous and made a bad impression. If he has information that assures a reduction in cost from the estimates of the engineers and experts who have reported to the chamber he should give it to the public. If his information tends to the belief that the bill will be bigger, he should be equally frank. Reticence is not a good platform on which to go into an election. It is likely to hurt more than even an unfavorable avowal. Besides, the director, as a public servant, owes it to the public to give the fullest information at his command.

Calm Before the Storm.

Reports of battles sent from Chefoo and Shanghaikwan must be taken with due allowance. There is almost constant skirmishing between Japanese and Russian outposts as the former advance from the south and east, but official reports indicate no serious fighting since the disaster to Gen. Stakelberg's force about Telissu. Since that engagement Gen. Oku has advanced steadily until he is approaching Kaiping, his front extending from the west coast of the peninsula to the mountains east of the railroad.

At the same time a force is advancing from Siuyen and another from the direction of Fung-Wang-Cheng, which the Russians call Gen. Kuroki's army. It is more likely the forces between Siuyen and Kaiping comprise the army under Gen. Nodzu, landed at Takushan and points west, and that none of Gen. Kuroki's troops are far west of Fung-Wang-Cheng, save possibly one column on the road to Hai-Cheng. The Russians appear to be no better informed than the general public regarding the number, disposition or commanders of the Japanese troops, and the Japanese censor is taking care that no information gets through his hands.

Undoubtedly a great battle is impending, unless Gen. Kuropatkin speedily resumes his policy of masterly retreat. The main forces, at the present rate of progress, will be in touch by next week, and at present they are making every possible preparation for a decisive conflict. The slow advance is the best possible guarantee that every detail is being looked after, so that when action once begins everything will be in readiness. The Russians have some advantage in fortified positions for the defensive, but there is every reason to believe the Japanese have the advantage in artillery, and probably in numbers.

A Human Incident.

The closing of a great city's street to traffic, all to save the life of a baby—the child of poor parents—was a story told in the dispatches from Brooklyn yesterday. Because the noise of passing vehicles threw the little one into convulsions, and because absolute rest was needed to preserve its slender chance for recovery, Borough President Littleton, as soon as the circumstances were made known to him by the mother, closed the street. All day the huge tide of traffic was held back from that spot, and not even when night fell were the barriers lifted, although the baby was reported much better and on the way to recovery.

A feature of the incident, upon which emphasis appeared to be laid, was that the petition of a poor mother had availed to touch the heart of a city official. The mother had feared that only the prayer of the rich would avail in such a case. But how unwarranted is such an impression! He were a monster, utterly unfit to be placed in any office of trust, who would refuse such a request as that mother's. It is safe to say that one might search municipal offices in every city of this land and not find a man who, under the circumstances as they were presented to President Littleton, would not have acted just as he did. For in such cases as this the truth stands out sharply that a city, with all its powers, belongs to its citizens and not to their hired servants. Anything that concerns the welfare of its humblest resident is not beneath its notice, and all its great agencies are created for his good. And, for the most part, those agencies are being so used continually. This particular incident happened to be spectacular. The powers of a big city are being exercised every hour to preserve life, but there is nothing spectacular about a municipal health department, and its work of mercy for the poor, therefore, passes almost unnoticed.

The Business Situation.

The hand-to-mouth policy pursued by producers and consumers continues to be the most prominent feature of the business situation. It is aggravated somewhat by the fact that trade generally halts during the summer, and that at this season no special effort is made to stimulate activity. Industrial and commercial affairs are better organized now than ever before, so that production may be better gauged to consumption. This prevents an accumulation of surplus stocks and at the same time removes the incentive to slash prices in the hope of getting new orders. Consumers are not yet ready to make a complete surrender and bow to the comparatively new order of things, hence they are buying only to fill immediate requirements and holding off on future orders. Producers argue that the present policy of consumers will merely result in damming up business which will come with a rush into the market next year, and for this reason they are not disposed to make concessions in price. This is the reported attitude of the steel-rail makers, who are said to have practically agreed upon maintaining $28 a ton as the price for steel rails next year. Their position seems to be justified by the fact that during the week a number of small orders were placed for rails by consumers who could no longer defer supplying pressing wants. A further curtailment in the output of coke and the reduction in pig iron production is in line with the policy to keep supply within the bounds of demand. Drygoods manufacturers who tried a different policy and recently made some price concessions have found it did not stimulate demand, retailers throughout the country holding back for additional concessions.

The outcome of this contest between producers and consumers is still in doubt. Manufacturers are in a strong position, but it is a question whether they can withstand the effects of enforced economy when 70,000,000 of consumers decide with more or less unanimity to cut down expenditures. It is a satisfaction to note, however, that the chief political event of the week—the unanimous nominations of the Republican national convention—did not add to the prevailing uncertainty in commercial circles, and was absolutely without adverse effect in financial circles. In fact, Wall street sentiment appeared to be more cheerful than for weeks past and security values averaged higher.

There was a steadily declining tendency in the commodity markets. Cotton sold down to the lowest price of the year, the favorable progress of the growing crop being the factor. Winter wheat harvesting is proceeding rapidly and new wheat has already appeared in the southwestern markets. Spring wheat conditions are extremely favorable and the prospective yield will be up to the average. The corn crop is backward, but the acreage is larger than last year, and while it is too soon to figure upon the yield, there is nothing in the outlook to cause alarm or discouragement. In this respect the situation is unlike that during the presidential campaign four years ago, when the average condition of the wheat crop fell to the lowest ever reported by the department of agriculture.

Money markets throughout the world are abnormally easy. During the week call loans in New York were quoted as low as ½ of 1 per cent, and time loans on good stock exchange collateral did not average much above 3 per cent. This ease is due to the accumulation of idle money, which is ascribed to dull trade, partly influenced by the impending presidential campaign. The same cause cannot be cited to account for the ease in London and on the continent, where official discount rates are quoted at the lowest of the year. There is nothing in sight in domestic money markets to cause any uneasiness, and in this respect the situation is also different from that which prevailed in 1900 and 1896.

"The elephant now goes 'round,
The band begins to play—"

We don't want to be hoggish. Pass it along and fix up your own trimmings.

We'll do our best, but it's pretty hard to believe all those things that Hoosier correspondent saw while he was blindfolded in a Port Arthur dungeon.

The platform is guilty of one grave omission. It fails to acknowledge Col. Bryan's distinguished services to the Republican party.

If the czar cannot go to the front,
One need not to see very far,
That if his troops can keep up their stunt
The front will soon come to the czar.

"Froth" is what President Schurman calls bachelors, and here we've been trying our level best to keep such stuff out of this column!

A young woman in New York has taken a flat at $15,000 a year. We've quit looking for such snaps in Pittsburgh.

"Good-by scholars, good-by school, good-by—." Can any of the boys help us to recall the rest of that line?

Wonder if Raisuli was thoughtful enough to have Perdicaris identify him so he could get that check cashed?

Perhaps after Senator Fairbanks has thought it over awhile, he'll let us know whether he, too, was surprised.

For sale cheap—Nice second-hand vice presidential boom, good as new. Apply to John L. Webster, Nebraska.

It was real thoughtful of Brother Loomis to leave that treaty behind before he proceeded to lose himself.

Motto for Democratic platform builders: Hew the chips, let the line fall where it will!

Don't be imposed upon by inferior brands of Kuro. The genuine is made in Japan.

The Hon. Mr. Raisuli appears to have found something interesting in his mail.

The average citizen is satisfied to make one end meat these days.

If Perdicaris takes to the lecture platform we'll kill him anyway.

Well, good-by "Uncle Joe;" take keer o' yourself.

Talked of in Gotham

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 24.—Republicans from the national convention at Chicago are returning home tonight. Some of them arrived earlier in the day and still others will not be here until they have looked over the exposition at St. Louis, as they find themselves in that part of the country. Not much is heard from the returned pilgrims about the exorbitant hotel charges in Chicago. Perhaps it did not strike all of them, although judging by the telegraphed reports from the west, there was a general effort on the part of the hotel men in the convention city to get rich at one swoop at the expense of the unsophisticated New Yorkers.

Little is said about the convention by the homecomers. They agree that it was harmonious and interesting, while all of them have many words of commendation for the magnificent speech by ex-Gov. Frank S. Black. That this speech made the hit of the convention is acknowledged freely. But so far as the actual business was concerned, there was nothing extraordinary about it, because it was all scheduled ahead. The fact that New York city is a Democratic community may have had something to do with the lack of enthusiasm here over the Chicago proceedings. Interest in the campaign is centered on the Democratic pow-wow at St. Louis after the Fourth, and there is no question that both the departing and returning of the 2,000 Tammanyites who will be at St. Louis will cause much more excitement than has been shown over the Republican proceedings. There is enough uncertainty in the outcome of the Democratic convention to make it of burning interest to a great many people. But there will be no surprises. No matter what decision is reached there, it will not astonish New Yorkers, as they are prepared for anything.

All Shouldered on Pittsburgh.

It is a common amusement of police reporters in this town, when they have a case of a man being robbed in the Tenderloin, to say that he came from Pittsburgh. The reason is understood to be because every man from Pittsburgh is presumed to be wealthy and to wear costly diamonds. Anyhow, there was a story in the papers today that Albert W. Wilkins, a Pittsburgh salesman, was robbed of a valuable diamond pin in the Tenderloin last night. The police are looking for the jewelry, but it will probably be shown as fanciful as the report that the victim is a son of Father Pitt.

May Have a Hippodrome.

Announcement of two big amusement enterprises are made in this city. One is of a great hippodrome to be built in Sixth avenue, between Forty-third and Forty-fourth streets, and the other refers to a hippodrome at Coney Island on land just purchased at a cost of $750,000. It is not certain that either of these places will ever be built, but it looks as if they might. At least, the suggestion is comforting as showing that there is plenty of money seeking investment in amusement enterprises which have even a fighting chance. The idea of a hippodrome in New York is anything but a new one, but it seems to have more solidity in it this time than ever before.

Bellboys Played Favorites.

The establishing of girl bell hops at the Martha Washington hotel is an innovation which may or may not prove successful. The hotel is for the accommodation of women exclusively, and it was found that bellboys were not entirely satisfactory to some of the patrons. The ladies who had passed their first youth, or were not remarkable for personal attractiveness, complained that the bellboys paid too much attention to young and handsome boarders, thus neglecting the others. The complaint was not couched in these exact terms, but it amounted to that. Now that girls have been engaged to answer bells, and carry ice water and magazines to the various rooms, it is hoped the house will be more comfortable to the guests in general, even if some of them miss extra attention.

Newsboy Outwits Policeman.

There was a funny sight in Broadway, near the Flatiron building, yesterday afternoon. Mr. McAvoy, one of the deputy police commissioners of New York, was driving uptown in a runabout, when the breezes that play around the triangular skyscraper, caught his Panama hat and sent it scurrying among the street cars and wagons.

Eight policemen, including a sergeant and roundsman, who all recognized their superior officer, dived after the hat, and Broadway was full of blue coats in various paralytic attitudes, trying to grab the hat. A newsboy dived between the legs of the sergeant just as that dignified functionary was about to pick up the hat. The boy got it and handed it to the deputy commissioner with a smile, which became broader when he received a quarter. The policemen tried to look dignified.

Wearing of the Green.

If anyone did not happen to know that green is the favorite color this summer in New York, he might think that there had been a new Irish invasion. You see green everywhere on femininity. Neckties, hat ribbons, sashes and trimming on frocks are of green—when they are not brown. By the way, it is noticed that brown seems to be confined principally to gowns. Only in rare cases is it on the summer hat. But green holds sway over millinery to a marvelous extent.

War Adds Interest to History.

Columbia university will establish a lectureship in Russian history next term. Interest in the Japanese-Russian war is responsible for this addition to the curriculum, just as the Spanish-American war caused the university to take up Spanish and the Boxer troubles made the Chinese an important study. The new chair of Russian history will be filled by Dr. Vladimir G. Simkhovitch, who has been supervisor of the department of serials in the library of the university.

Relief for Slocum Sufferers.

There is a big benefit on tonight at the Grand opera house for the benefit of the General Slocum sufferers. It is believed that $3,000 will be realized. The performance is made up principally of vaudeville, and the names of those concerned are some of the best known in the country. One of the features of the entertainment which gives much pleasure is the selling of flowers by a bevy of show girls, including Miss Frankie Bailey, of statuesque fame.

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Have you ever been bumped into by a life insurance agent of the persistent, persuasive type?

If not you have missed something worth while; although some folks may say you have been playing in great luck.

The born agent is very different from the fellow who goes into the business because it looks like a scheme by which to make money without hard work.

Of course, this fellow is foreordained to failure, just as every fellow is who attempts to make his life a success without work—good, honest work.

The successful agent is a worker, although he may never appear to be in a hurry, nor over-anxious to do business; nor does he create the impression that he is indifferent, but that he is working in your interest rather than his own and is satisfied to await your convenience.

He is onto you, so to speak. He knows your business all right, and like the philosopher that he is, he dove-tails his business into it so as to make a neat fit, so neat that you will hardly notice it.

* * * * *

The successful insurance agent is a good fellow. He has to be, for real success goes with good fellowship, no matter what the line may be.

And like every other successful promoter, he picks his man, and then goes for him in the way that will be most agreeable to him, or at most will be not in the least offensive to him. In order to do this he must know his man. Not only must he know his name, but his strong points, also his weak ones, likewise his hobbies and fads, his tastes pertaining to art, literature, religion, politics and all that sort of thing.

You may have wondered how in the world he could have called the turn on so many of your pets, or how he could lead a conversation right along your lines and so directed that it led, easily and logically, plump into his camp.

And now that you have come to think the matter over more carefully you can't help concluding that he had come loaded for you. Nor can you refrain from admiring his cleverness.

* * * * *

You may hear folks poking fun at the life insurance agent, or holding him up as a talking machine, a bore, or a humbug, but you know better; that is, you know better if you are well acquainted with him.

There may have been agents in times past who bored or even buncoed people, but these are all, or very nearly all, out of business now, for that style of agent or promoter is out of date.

Of course, every particular agent believes his particular company to be the best, or that it is in some ways better than any other. He must believe this in order to be really successful, since it is his confidence in his scheme that wins your confidence.

A fellow may talk very glibly in favor of something he doesn't believe in, but his talk is not nearly as effective as if he believes every word he says. Even if he were to use precisely the same words they wouldn't have the same effect.

In this, the same as in art, truth counts for more than bright colors, boldness or novelty. It is the truth in a picture that gives it value. And although you are a stranger to the scene or have never seen the face, nor read the story, you will feel that it is true—true as the artist saw it and felt it himself.

* * * * *

Naturally a successful life insurance artist will strive to make you see things as he sees them, which is to see and feel that his company is the best on earth, or at least that you will find it the best for you.

But he doesn't jump into the other companies, tear the feathers off of them and point out flaws and defects in their anatomy. For, how does he know but you have a friend in one of these, or maybe a brother's widow, or some widow friend of the family is enjoying the benefits of a promptly paid policy held in one of them. He knows better, a whole lot better, than to make a foolish play like that.

Anyway you don't think any more of an agent or promoter because he tries to tear the giblets out of his competitors.

And the successful life insurance artist knows that, too. He wouldn't be an artist if he didn't. That he is an artist is clear enough. Doesn't he paint for you a word picture that impresses you so clearly and so deeply that you buy it?

But would you buy it if it were not true to life? Hardly, unless you didn't know an oil painting from a chromo.

* * * * *

You may have noticed how gingerly a real life insurance artist handles his brother artist, and how adroitly he sidetracks him should you happen to mention the fact that he had dropped in casually, or accidentally, and had incidentally given you some figures to ponder over and a few tracts for home reading. Among the latter is usually found a neat little folder on which the names of all the leading companies are printed, together with the cost of policies and what you will get when you—or rather what they pay when the policies mature.

The real artist uses the word "mature" in preference to the word "die." It is more agreeable. In fact it is rather soothing, if not really fetching in its effect.

Of course you will flash up this tract and point to the company underscored in red ink. But the artist doesn't fall off the chair nor tremble, nor fly into a passion. He takes it up respectfully and looks it over just as if he had never seen it before, knits his brow as though he was figuring in his mind, and all at once asks if you had noticed some particular bunch of figures.

With pencil and paper, which he borrows from you, not having thought he would need anything of the kind, he proceeds to figure out right before your eyes how his company will do better for you. And maybe asks you for the tract that he may look it over himself.

* * * * *

That open-faced tract with the red ink underscore is not only a trump card, but a regular joker, and when played by an expert it rarely fails to win the game.

And then the artist usually happens to have a book in his pocket which contains the facts as ascertained by long and careful research, and bears the approval of the highest authorities in the land. The manner in which he brings this book out gives you the impression that it is not for every Tom, Dick and Harry to see, but he doesn't mind showing you a few of the "true facts" it contains. And there they are, underscored by a deep red line.

There is no use arguing against this book and you will feel more or less mean if you do not show some appreciation of his kindness in allowing you to see it, and to gaze upon the "true facts" with your own natural eyes.

Were he to abuse the other fellow or say hard things of other companies, you wouldn't feel nearly so friendly toward him. He hasn't hypnotized you, only won your respect and confidence, which is pretty nearly the whole thing from his point of view, for when he has accomplished this he has you practically out of the woods.

And yet he must keep on the lookout, for there are others who carry books of "true facts" with red underscores, and some of these can figure to beat the band, or even a life insurance artist, who thinks he has a cinch on a good thing—a good big premium.

Riches of Australia

ARTICLE VI.

[This series by the Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark was begun five weeks ago. The preceding articles appeared in The Sunday Gazette, but the remainder by Mr. Clark's request will be published on Saturday mornings.]

A few years ago, on a previous visit to this vast island continent of the South seas, after visiting the chief centers of population from Adelaide to Brisbane, I set sail from the latter port for China by way of the land-locked passage behind the Great Barrier reef and between the islands of the South seas.

Day after day we sailed with the shores of Australia constantly in view. For 10 days we never lost sight of this enormous island, and at last came to anchor at the northern tip within the harbor of Port Darwin, and yet even then we had circumnavigated far less than half of this vast coastline.

This voyage was enough to give one the realizing sense of the splendid dominion which belongs to the 4,000,000 of Australians. Australia contains almost exactly as many square miles as the United States of America exclusive of Alaska.

Its climates, for it has many, range from the cool temperate of Southern Victoria to the intensely tropical of Northern Queensland and South Australia. It can raise anything that grows out of the earth. It has mines whose surfaces as yet in many cases have been only scratched, although some of them go nearly a mile into the bowels of the earth, yielding treasures such as have been found in few other lands.

Although stock raising, like every other industry, is yet in its infancy, Australia contains one-fourth of all the sheep in the world, or rather it did before the recent disastrous drought.

Public Ownership at Its Best.

"Compared with the population," says a careful writer, "the primary production of Australia is not exceeded or even closely approached by any other country, though, of course, in the total value it is surpassed by the great countries of Europe as well as the United States."

The revenue of the six states is not far from $150,000,000, which is more than one-fourth of that of Great Britain and Ireland, although the population of the states is only about one-tenth. It must be remembered that Australia owns all her railways, and this accounts for more than one-third of the public revenue. There are more miles of railway in proportion to the population than even in the United States itself, which, of course, far and away leads the world in the actual mileage of its railways.

The 4,000,000 of people send in round figures about 8,000,000 of telegraphic messages every year, a considerably larger proportion than is sent by the citizens of the United States, since our heavy telegraphic tolls keep the people from enjoying the full benefit of their telegraphic system, whereas, even in this sparsely settled country, with the telegraphic lines owned by the state, the rate for transmitting of messages is not half that charged by our monopolistic companies.

Where Socialism Retards.

Yet, vast as are our resources, the possibilities of the future of Australia are far more tremendous; they quite stagger the imagination as one thinks of the buried treasures yet to be unearthed, the multitudinous flocks and herds upon a thousand hills, the development of the vast tropical sections of the country which can grow every tropical fruit and produce rice, sugar, cotton, coffee and rubber when the law allows the introduction of labor in sufficient quantity and of the right sort to develop these vast resources.

Much of Australia has not yet been explored, through vast areas the foot of white man has never trod, enormous sections are still given over to the aboriginal blacks, where they hurl their spears and throw their boomerangs as in the days long before Capt. Cook, in the Endeavour, sailed around these shores.

The recuperative powers of Australia have never better been seen than during the last year. Seven lean years have preceded this year of plenty. Years of dreadful drought and distress in the agricultural and pastural regions. Years when not a drop of water moistened the parched ground.

The grass withered and was burnt up and some orchards still look as though an awful forest fire had raged through them, but it was the fire of the sun which withered and burnt them and no terrestrial flame. Sheep perished by the millions. More than one-half of all the animals in some of the states have died for lack of pasturage and water. Even the rabbits, kangaroos and lizards, and crawling reptiles of every sort, died by the myriad in these awful, cloudless, rainless years.

Terrible Seven-Year Drouth.

Year followed year, but no relief came, the heavens above were like brass and the earth like a fiery oven. In some parts of Australia even the eucalyptus trees, the hardiest of all forest growth, whose seeds will not germinate unless roasted in a forest fire before they are planted, died away root and branch alike.

But a few months ago the blessed rain began to fall once more. It came in gentle showers and in tremendous storms, the heavens themselves seemed to be opened for Australia, and the elements seemed bent on making up the deficiency of the past. With the change in a few weeks the fertile soil was reclothed with grass, the trees that were not entirely dead put forth their flowers and fruit; even weeds and patches of thistles that were thought to be utterly exterminated bounded into new life, growing to be 12 feet high in a single season.

The roots of the grass which it was supposed were entirely burned to a cinder proved to have retained their vitality and in a few days after the rain began to fall the earth was carpeted with verdant green.

This transformation scene of rejuvenation, the like of which has never before been seen, is typical of Australia. Her resources are constantly a prey to fire and flood, financial depression, labor agitation, political experiments, which may possibly delay and retard the progress of this vast island, but cannot ultimately destroy her resources or cripple her industries.

A Promising Future.

Australia has a great part to play in the family of nations, because she occupies a strategic position in the South seas. The yellow nations of Asia are her neighbors on one side, and the Spanish-Americans her neighbors on the other—distant neighbors, to be sure, but nevertheless people over whom she will exert with her growing Anglo-Saxon domination a controlling influence.

Her most pressing need, at least in the opinion of one traveler, is a larger population. Her 4,000,000 of inhabitants are thinly stretched along 3,000 miles of coast line. Many of her greatest assets are still in nature's bank waiting to be drawn upon, and until she gets more population, vastly more labor to till her soil, cultivate her fruits, to work her mines, to build up her manufactories, I do not see how she can take her rightful place.

But the sentiment that has lately discouraged immigration and clamored for "Australia for Australians" will doubtless one of these days give way to a comprehensive effort to develop Australian resources.

Australia, as we are told by a recent writer, "has the advantage over any other nation of the globe, inasmuch as her population is homogeneous, British and Irish. So she has never experienced the disadvantage that the United States find in their negroes, neither will immigrants risk the long journey to the south to make for themselves homes in the island continent so long as they can find an abiding place in Canada and the United States."

The United Commonwealth.

This, it seems to me, is a very questionable advantage. The strength of the American republic lies in the fact that the population is drawn from every quarter of the globe. A mixed race is usually a strong, enterprising race, and immigration certainly ought to be encouraged, because a few millions of British and Irish cannot develop Australia as she ought to be developed.

The United Commonwealth has started out, on the whole, under most favorable auspices. There are still jealousies among the states, as there were in the early days of the American republic, but they will give way before the growing sense of national unity.

PERSONALS

Charles Hurst, an electrotyper of New York city, is on his way from New York to Sioux City, Ia., by automobile. His touring car broke down yesterday afternoon in Carnegie. Mrs. Hurst is traveling with him.

William Dittrich, one of the survivors of the General Slocum steamboat disaster, is visiting his uncle, Robert Dittrich, No. 254 Thirty-ninth street. Dittrich was on the upper deck of the vessel and was injured about the head when the deck gave way, carrying hundreds to death. He was picked up by a launch and taken to North Brother island. He said the upper deck was comparatively deserted until the first alarm and then became crowded with women and children seeking a place of refuge. The people expected to be safe until the boat was beached, but a panic occurred when a number sprang overboard, many others following their example. Two companions with Dittrich were also saved.

Patrick Gilday, president of district No. 2, of the United Mine Workers, spent yesterday in Pittsburgh. He visited the local officials of the union. "The mining conditions," he said, "are steadily improving in my territory."

That school days are over is manifest from the many students who pass through the Union station. Last evening an exceptionally large number were on their way home for their summer holiday. Last evening the Indian students of Carlisle school were passengers on the Pennsylvania railroad. About 25 went through. Some have finished their course and will return in a few weeks for examination for diplomas. Thirty scholars of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial schools at Scottland, were also aboard the Pennsylvania train.

Miss Mary Bell, daughter of John Bell, vice president of the Colonial Trust Company, accompanied by Miss McClaren, principal of the Carnegie High school, left last night on a European tour. They will be away about two months.

Ex-Gov. William A. Stone returned last evening from Philadelphia, where he attended a meeting of the state capitol commission. He stated that the committee did everything possible to have the contractors employ union men, but inasmuch as the contracts were already let without any stipulation, the committee could do nothing but request the contractors to favor the union men, which he thinks they will do.

William H. Andrews left last night for New York. Before leaving he handed the Pullman ticket agent a $1 bill, requesting he pay it to the day ticket agent. "When I returned from Chicago," said Mr. Andrews, "I was penniless. I had to ask the ticket agent for $1 to get home with."

BOAT FIGHT ENDS IN MAN DROWNING

Charles Barrett Goes Overboard During a Scrimmage and Earl McIntyre Is Arrested.

HAPPENED ON WOODWARD

While fighting on the deck of the steamer I. C. Woodward, of the Morgantown Packet Company, Charles Barrett, aged 24, colored, was pushed overboard into the Monongahela river near Glenwood and drowned yesterday morning about 10:30 o'clock. The body of Barrett was not recovered and Earl McIntyre, aged 22, colored, was placed under arrest when the steamer landed in Pittsburgh. He was locked in the Central police station to await the result of the coroner's jury. Leslie Bush, colored, of 12 Pastor alley, Charles Lowery of 1203 Clark street and Henry Reed of 3031 Smallman street, deckhands, were locked up as witnesses in the case.

Barrett and McIntyre had some words when the boat was cruising down the river. Just as the boat was passing under the bridge at Glenwood, Barrett and McIntyre renewed their differences. Barrett picked up a heavy forge handle and made for McIntyre. The latter dodged the blow and rushed Barrett. The two men pushed each other near the side of the boat. McIntyre gave Barrett another shove which sent him off the deck into the water.

The steamer was stopped and a boat launched. Several deckhands got in the skiff and started to rescue Barrett. The latter was swimming when the boat was within 50 feet of him. Suddenly he sank and did not come to the surface again.

McIntyre said he had no intention of pushing Barrett overboard, but was compelled to shove him from him in order to avoid the bow of the heavy forge handle. McIntyre lives in Kentucky and Barrett's home was in Kittanning.

A postmortem examination was made yesterday of the body of Harry Breitenstein, a farmer of Marshall township, who was thought to have died from a blow of a shovel at the hands of a neighbor. The physicians determined that Breitenstein died from valvular heart disease.

During the last hours of the last day as a brakeman on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, Martin Thornton, aged 23, of Wilkesbarre, met with an accident yesterday which resulted in his death at the McKeesport hospital. Thursday he notified the trainmaster he would quit his work that night, as he was going home to get married. At 11 o'clock Thursday night he was crushed between two cars.

John McClelland, aged 28, a Pittsburgh & Lake Erie brakeman at Glassport, was yesterday caught between two cars and fatally crushed.

Thomas Painter, aged 23, a miner of Coulterville, committed suicide early yesterday by shooting himself in the head. He was despondent because he was unable to secure work. He is survived by his widow and two children, who live in Coulterville.

William Smith, aged 10, son of William Smith, Sr., of Brown's station, was drowned in the Monongahela river, near his home, while in bathing with a number of other boys shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The body was recovered an hour after. The boy was an excellent swimmer, but it is thought he was attacked with cramps.

The autopsy on the body of Harry Sinclair, colored, 45 years old, of Berninger place, Ben Avon, who died at his home yesterday morning under alleged suspicious circumstances, developed the fact that death was due to pneumonia. Sinclair had been sick for several days and had been taking medicine prescribed by Dr. A. H. Elliott. Yesterday morning he was found in a dying condition and died a short time later. A letter written to the coroner said the death was suspicious. The autopsy was ordered. The body is at the morgue.

ALL ARE ENTHUSIASTIC FOR NATIONAL TICKET

Pennsylvania Delegation Returns from Chicago Confident of Success.

The entire Pennsylvania state delegation to the Republican national convention, except Senator Penrose, returned from Chicago yesterday. The Allegheny county delegates got in at 8:45 a. m. Senator William Flinn said the choice of the convention will be sure to meet with the approval of the nation.

When the train bearing the eastern delegates got in Governor Pennypacker, who had risen early, took a walk up and down the station platform. He was positive that Roosevelt and Fairbanks will be elected.

United States Senator John Kean was a member of the New Jersey delegation. He predicted that the Republican candidates will be elected regardless of the nominations the Democrats make. The enthusiasm shown on the last day of the convention was enough to inspire every Republican with confidence, Senator Kean added.

The Citizens leaders held no conference yesterday. Incidentally Director Bigelow said the scheme of doing the filtration plant work and removing the hump by the day labor plan would not be carried out and that the work would be let by contract, as usual.

Thomas S. Bigelow confirmed the statement that the Citizens party would put up no opposition candidates against the Republicans this fall. He added, however, that if the Allegheny Republicans held the January primaries in October, in order to prevent the Citizens from participating on the ground that they had not supported the Republican ticket at the last state election, the Allegheny Citizens would probably nominate opposition candidates for the legislative districts on the North Side. Mr. Bigelow expressed the opinion that the Citizns would make no fight against Controller Larkin. All parties would probably support Larkin, he said.

Think of Butte's Snow and Try to Keep Cool

BUTTE, MONT., June 24.—(Special.)—A snow storm has been raging intermittently in this city since 8 o'clock last night. The mountains wear a covering of white, though in the valleys the snow is melting almost as fast as it falls. The temperature ranged during the night between 30 and 40 degrees.

YACHT BLEW UP AND NINE HURT

Explosion of Gasoline on Launch Alys Nearly Caused Fatal Disaster.

MANY HAD NARROW ESCAPE

The gasoline tank in the yacht Alys exploded while in the middle of the Ohio river, opposite the Western penitentiary, last evening at 7 o'clock. The nine occupants of the small craft were painfully burned and narrowly escaped death by drowning. The injured are:

JAMES A. DENSMORE, aged 38, of 224 North Euclid avenue, East End; taken to St. John's General hospital.
MRS. J. A. DENSMORE, aged 35, taken to hospital.
JAMES D. DENSMORE, aged 17, son of J. A. Densmore. Taken to hospital.
RICHARD MITCHELL, aged 23 years, of Wellsboro, Pa.
MRS. LESTER C. MYERS of 210 South Euclid avenue.
MARGARET MYERS, aged 5 years.
LESTER MYERS, aged 3 years.
MARION MYERS, aged 15 years.
MARTHA MYERS, aged 17 years.

All are burned about the face, arms and neck, but, with the exception of Mitchell, were able to be taken to their homes last night in carriages. Mitchell, who is a student at State college, has both arms seriously burned and will remain in the hospital for several days.

The explosion occurred just a few minutes after the Alys had left Brunots island, where the party had enjoyed a picnic during the afternoon. Mr. Densmore, the owner of the boat, took the party out from R. C. Price's boat house, under the Seventh street bridge, Allegheny, early in the afternoon and landed on Brunots island, where they had supper from the baskets they carried with them. On the trip down the river it was noticed that the engine was not working perfectly.

The explosion occurred without warning and threw all except Martha Myers and Mrs. Densmore, into 12 feet of water. Little Margaret Myers was drifting down stream away from the disabled yacht when she was rescued by Mr. Densmore, who swam back to the Alys. Mrs. Myers grasped her little son, Lester, as he was sinking and held him above until she could secure a hold on the side of the boat.

The noise of the explosion and the sight of the burning boat attracted the attention of some men on John Gallagher's boathouse at the foot of Wilkins street, and in skiffs they went to the assistance of those in the water. In the skiffs the injured people were taken to the Allegheny side of the river and removed to St. John's General hospital.

The boat Alys is 20 feet long, with six-foot beam and is valued at $1,700. It was almost totally destroyed by the flames and was towed to the foot of Ontario street by John Gallagher, George Farley, Patrick Crowley and Thomas Gann, who rescued the pleasure party from their perilous position.

Lieutenant Jacob Walker and Officers William Muckle, Charles Aschman and Florence Mitchell of the Sharpsburg police force were thrown into the Allegheny river yesterday afternoon by the capsizing of a steam yacht in which they were returning from a day's outing at Montrose station. The officers swam ashore, dragging the water-logged boat after them. They were all on duty last night and seemed little the worse for their ducking.

CHICAGO MERCHANTS WANT SHIP SUBSIDY

Merchant Marine Commission Created by Last Congress Meets in Windy City.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 24.—The United States Merchant Marine commission, created under the provisions of the Gardner bill and passed at the last session of congress, conferred with Chicago manufacturers, shippers, exporters and bankers today with a view to formulating plans for rehabilitating the merchant marine of the country. The members of the commission present at the session today were: Senator Jacob H. Gallinger, chairman; Senator Boies Penrose, Congressman Charles H. Grosvenor, Congressman Edward S. Minor and William E. Humphrey, Washington.

John Barrett, former minister to Siam and Argentine republic and at present minister to Panama, said: "I have traveled around the world five times and have recently completed a trip of 50,000 miles in the interest of the St. Louis exposition, and in all my journeys I regret to say I did not see one merchant ship flying the American flag."

Paul Tietgens, a Chicago merchant, expressed doubt whether American ships could compete with the cheaply constructed ships of Europe without a subsidy from the government.

At the afternoon session the commission listened to the arguments of several men who are interested in the upbuilding of the American merchant marine. W. L. Brown, president of the American Shipbuilders Company, told the commission of the prosperous condition of ship commerce on the great lakes and gave for the reason of this prosperity the lack of competition by foreign vessels and the improved facilities for handling freight.

James A. Patton of the commission firm of Bartlett, Frazier and Carrington spoke against any ship subsidy declaring that such a thing once started would have to be kept up continually.

None of the commissioners made any comment on the ideas advanced by the speakers.

WOMAN FOUND BY POLICE IS IN DYING CONDITION

In Her Deposition She Makes Serious Charges Against Her Missing Husband.

Mrs. Nellie McCarthy, aged 35 years, who was found in a vacant house at 714 South avenue, Allegheny, late Thursday night, is dying in the Allegheny General hospital. The police are looking for her husband, Daniel McCarthy.

The woman's condition became so serious yesterday afternoon that the hospital physicians informed Police Superintendent Campbell that she would not live many hours. Magistrate Abernathey went to the hospital and took her deposition.

In it she says that last Tuesday her husband beat and kicked her into insensibility, and when she recovered he was having the furniture moved out of the house. Before leaving, he promised to return for her, but did not. Unable to move, because of illness and her injuries, the woman lay in a state of semi-consciousness on a straw mattress in one of the rooms of the house until almost midnight Thursday, when discovered by the police.

TEMPLE SITE IS FINALLY BOUGHT

Clarke and Porter Properties in Forbes Street Secured for $90.000.

BUILDING WILL COST $300,000

After several weeks of negotiations, a site for a Masonic temple has been purchased. Formal announcement of the deal was made last night by George W. Guthrie, chairman of the site committee, to the Scottish rite bodies in the Fifth avenue temple. The site secured includes 100 feet of the old Charles J. Clarke property, in Forbes street, near Craft avenue, now owned by the St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church, and 152 feet adjoining on the east, which belonged to E. L. Porter. The price of the two plots was $90,000.

The church lot has a depth of 268 feet, running through to Fifth avenue, and adjoins the lot at the northeast corner of Forbes street and Craft avenue, on which the church and parsonage are built. The Porter lot is 173 feet deep and is improved with a large brick house. There are approximately 53,000 square feet in the two plots—abundant space for a large building. It is understood that $50,000 was paid for the church lot, or $500 a foot for the Forbes street frontage. The Porter lot is said to have brought $40,000, or $263 a front foot, which rates about the same as the other lot, considering the depth of the lot. Figured on a square foot basis, the property brought $160 a foot. The purchase was made direct, no brokers being interested, and the property is generally regarded a good bargain at the price paid.

Several other locations were considered by the committee. Among these were the Morris property, in Halket street, opposite Coltart square; the Theiss holdings, at Fifth avenue and Magee place, and the John Dimling property, at Forbes and Halket streets, which was reported yesterday morning to have been chosen. Besides these properties, the committee tried to get a price on a part of the Schenley holdings extending through from Forbes street to Fifth avenue, and also on a lot in Bellefield owned by H. C. Frick. Neither property could be bought. The site secured is directly across Forbes street from the Murry Verner holdings, in the rear of which the new arsenal will be built. St. Peter's church bought the Clarke corner in 1901 for $80,000, getting 255x268 feet. By making this deal the church site proper costs them only $30,000. Besides the church building, which was reerected stone by stone from the old church at Grant and Diamond streets, a $40,000 stone parsonage stands on the corner lot.

The Scottish rite bodies took the initiative in the purchase of the temple site, and title to the property will be taken by them. Other Masonic bodies are privileged to join with them in the deal, and it is almost certain that Pittsburgh commandery No. 1, Knights Templar, will unite with them at once. Other bodies are expected to follow. In this case the building, which will be exclusively for Masonic purposes, will be devoted to the general uses of the different bodies. If none of the other bodies should join in the purchase, it will be used for a Scottish rite temple exclusively. The site committee included George W. Guthrie, chairman; James I. Buchanan, Joseph Morris, Herman Yunker and Harry Dunlap, with Capt. M. P. Felker as an ex-officio member.

No architect has been chosen for the new building. Architect Fred J. Osterling was invited to inspect the properties to judge of their availability for a site, but he has prepared no plans. The building will be at least four stories high and will cost probably $300,000. Many preliminaries are to be settled before it is started, which may not be until next spring. Chairman Guthrie stated last night that this deal affected in no way the Fifth avenue property, about which many reports have been circulated. The Fifth avenue temple is owned by a stock company, the Masonic Fund association, composed of the different bodies, and no offer has been made for the property for months.

GRAND JURY TO MOVE IN SLOCUM DISASTER

Bodies Recovered Number 908, and That of Pastor Haas' Daughter Is Identified.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 24.—Vigorous action taken this afternoon by United States District Attorney Burnett promises to result in wholesale arrests for gross neglect, carelessness and indifference to the public safety, shown through the burning of the death-trap steamboat General Slocum. Gen. Burnett has ordered the assembling of the federal grand jury for next Thursday, when all the evidence secured at the inquest before Coroner Berry will be submitted.

This announcement followed a conference in the federal building today between the United States district attorney, District Attorney Jerome and Coroner Berry.

The total number of bodies recovered from the East river is now 908, and it is feared that many bodies have been swept out to sea.

A number of identifications of bodies was made today. One of them was the body of Gertrude Haas, 13 years old, of 64 Seventh street, the daughter of the Rev. Dr. George C. F. Haas, pastor of St. Mark's church.

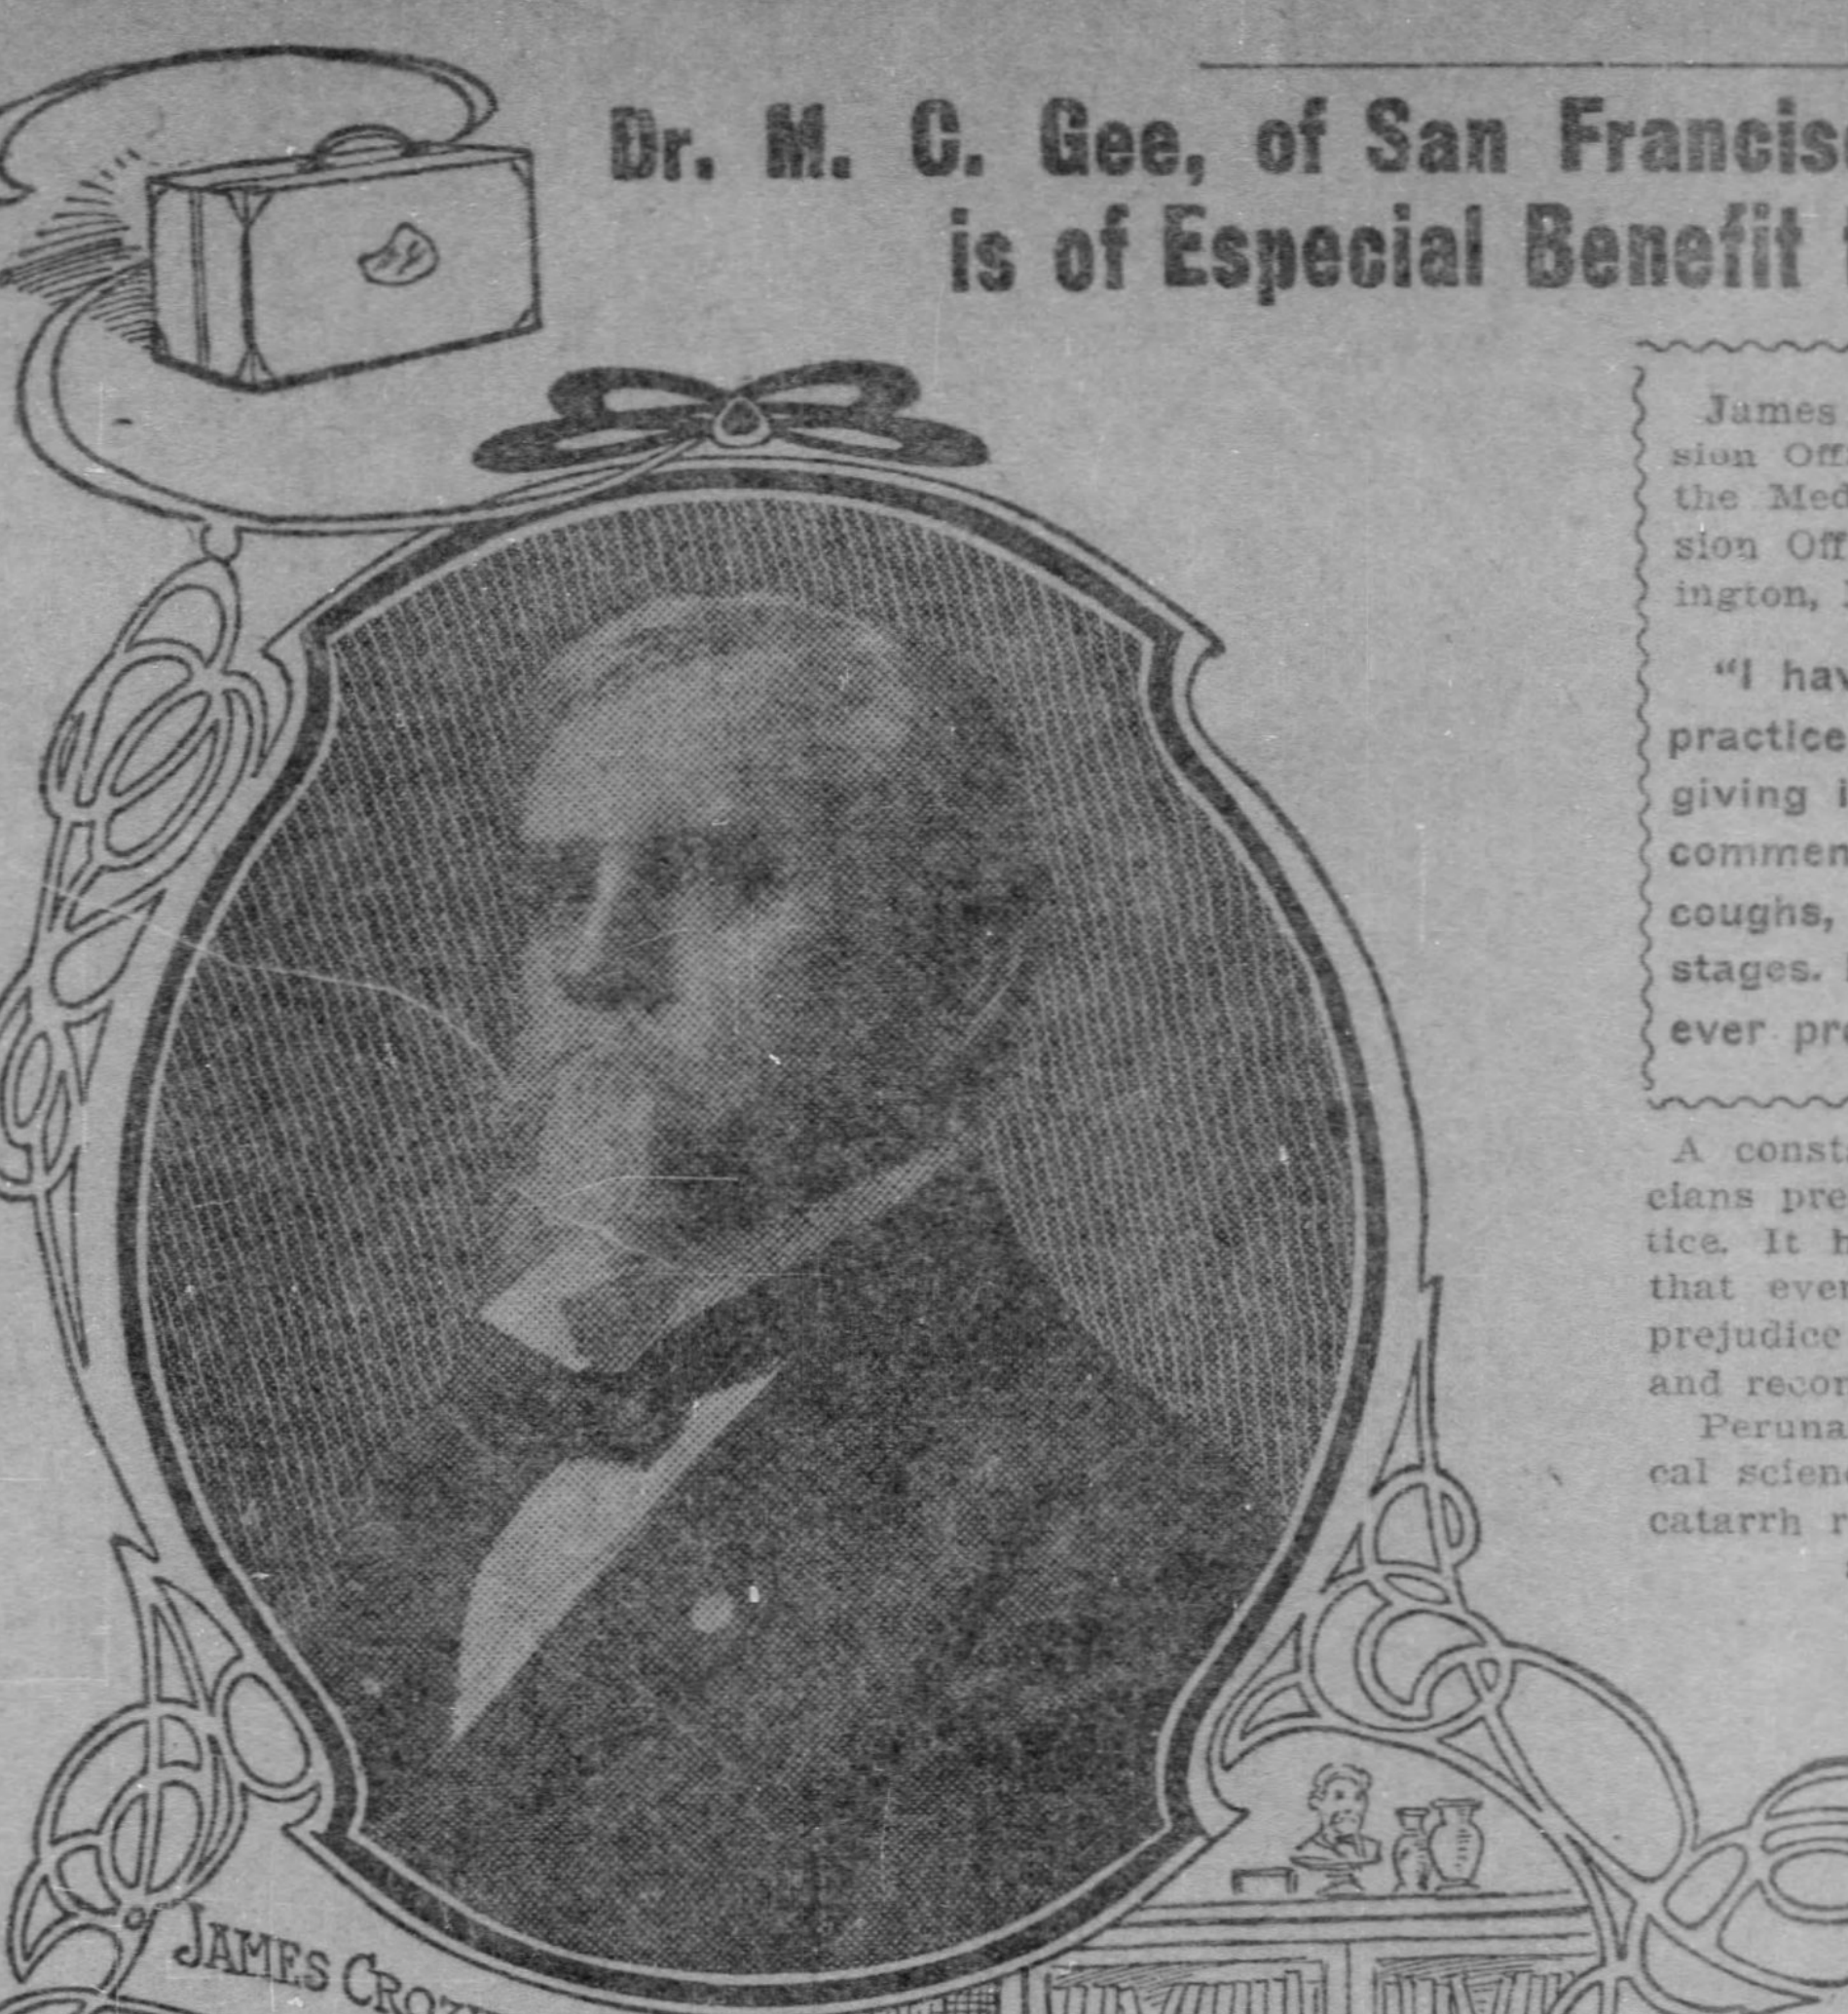
PROMINENT PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE PE-RU-NA

Dr. M. C. Gee, of San Francisco, Says: "Pe-ru-na is of Especial Benefit to Women."



JAMES CROZIER M.D.

James Crozier, M. D., formerly U. S. Pension Office Medical Examiner, formerly on the Medical Board of Referee, U. S. Pension Office, in a recent letter from Washington, D. C., writes:

"I have often prescribed Peruna in my practice for caarrhal trouble, and after giving it a fair test I can cheerfully recommend your valuable remedy, and for coughs, colds and catarrh in its worst stages. It is one of the best tonics I have ever prescribed."—Dr. James Crozier.

A constantly increasing number of physicians prescribe Peruna in their regular practice. It has proven its merits so thoroughly that even the doctors have overcome their prejudice against so-called patent medicines and recommend it to their patients.

Peruna occupies a unique position in medical science. It is the only internal systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession today. Catarrh, as everyone will admit, is the cause of one-half the diseases which affict mankind. Catarrh and catarrhal diseases afflict one-half of the people of the United States.

Dr. A. P. Bogue, formerly Professor of Anatomy at Howard University, writes from the Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C., as follows:

"I have used Peruna in several cases of catarrh and have found it an excellent remedy. I can honestly recommend it to the public as an excellent remedy for catarrh and colds." A. P. Bogue, M. D..

Catarrh may invade any organ of the body; may destroy any function of the body. It most commonly attacks the head, nose and throat, but thousands upon thousands of cases of catarrh of the lungs, stomach, kidneys, bladder and other pelvic organs have been cured by Peruna.

Peruna is able to cure catarrh wherever it may be located by its direct action upon the mucous membranes. Catarrh means inflammed mucous membranes. Perun acts at once to cleanse and invigorate the catarrhal condition of the mucous membranes, no matter where it may occur in the body. Its action is the same on the mucous lining of the nose as on the cucous lining of the bowels. It cures catarrhal inflammation wherever it may occur.

Dr. R. Robbins, Muskogee, I. T., writes:

"'Peruna is the best medicine I know of for cough and to strengthen a weak stomach and to give appetite. Besides prescribing it for catarrh, I have ordered it for weak and debilitated people, and have not had a patient but said it helped him. It is an excellent medicine and it fits so many cases.

"I have a large practice, and have a chance to prescribe your Peruna. I hope you may live long and do good to the sick and suffering."

We say Peruna cures catarrh. The people say Peruna cures catarrh. Prominent men and women all over the United States from Maine to California do not hesitate to come out in public print to say that Peruna is what it is recommended to be, an internal, systemic catarrh remedy that cures catarrh wherever it may be located.

Dr. M. C. Gee's Experience.

Dr. M. C. Gee is one of the physicians who indorse Peruna. In a letter written from 513 Jones street, San Francisco, Cal., he says:

"There is a general objection on the part of the practicing physician to advocate patent medicines, but when any one medicine cures hundreds of people it demonstrates its own value and does not need the indorsement of the profession.

"Peruna has performed so many wonderful cures in San Francisco that I am convinced that it is a valuable remedy. I have frequently advised its use for women, as I find it insures regular and painless menstruation, cures leucorrhea and ovarian troubles, and builds up the entire system. I also consider it one of the finest catarrh remedies I know of. I heartily indorse your medicine."—M. C. Gee, M. D.

Women are especially liable to pelvic catarrh, female weakness, as it is commonly called. Especially in the first few weeks of warm weather do the disagreeable symptoms of female weakness make themselves apparent. In crisp, cold weather chronic sufferers with pelvic catarrh do not feel so persistently the debilitating effects of the drain upon the system, but at the approach of summer, with its lassitude and tired feelings, the sufferer with pelvic catarrrh feels the need of a strengthening tonic.

Peruna is not only the best spring tonic for such cases, but if persisted in will effect a complete cure. Write for a copy of "Health and Beauty," written especially for women by Dr. Hartman. If you want to read of some cures also write for a copy of "Facts and Faces." That will surely convince you that our claims are valid.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

The Pirates were forced to fight every step of the way in order to take the last game of the series from the Cardinals and finally managed to turn the trick 4 to 1, much to the delight of the 3,060 spectators who were given a few scares before the contest was wound up. It was a hard-fought battle and was not over until the last hand had died on a fly to Fred Clarke.

Charley Nichols was on the rubber for the visitors, and he was there with all the curves and cunning he used to have in the old days when he was regarded as the king-pin pitcher of the country. Nichols had both speed and control, as was shown in the opening inning, when Leach, the first batter up, was called out on strikes without his having made an effort to swing on the ball. Each ball cut the heart of the plate, and Tommy had no complaint to register when Umpire Moran tallied off the three strikes. Nichols kept up this clever display until the sixth inning was reached, when the locals got their eyes on the ball, and they scored enough runs to win the game.

Patsy Flaherty, who is sharing with Hans Wagner these days the honor of being the pride of Carnegie, was in the box for the locals and pitched consistent ball all the way. There were times when things looked a bit squally, but it was then that Patsy showed his real worth and kept the runs from crossing the plate. This was true of the ninth inning, when the visitors showed signs of becoming very dangerous, and those of the spectators who had prepared to leave, thinking it was all over, were forced to resume their seats. There were two out at the time and a base hit and a couple of errors had filled the bases with runners, but Farrell, who was looked to in order to save the day for the Cardinals, could not deliver the goods.

Back of Flaherty the Pirates put up a splendid game, but all their fine efforts were nearly upset in that exciting ninth, when Wagner and Leach made misplays that came so near being the Pirates' undoing. The Cardinals also put up a splendid game and gave Charley Nichols the support that a winning pitcher deserves. Both the infielders and outfielders were active, and many a drive that looked as though it would be safe was pulled in. Farrell, Burke and Brain of the infield and Barclay and Smoot in the outfield contributed many pretty plays. For the Pirates Tommy Leach was particularly active. Flaherty not only pitched well, but fielded his position in fine style.

The fast work of the Pirates is shown by the fact that three double plays were turned in, and all of them were sensational. The one put up by Beaumont and Smith was a hair-raiser, as it was the means of nipping a base runner at the plate. The Pirates scored their first run in the sixth inning, and it was the result of a very daring bit of base running on the part of Tommy Leach. Tommy had reached first on a hit, and when Beaumont drove a grounder down to Burke at third Leach went all the way to third base. Jake Beckley was so eager to make the play at third that he forgot all about touching first, and Beaumont was safe. Clarke went out on a fly and Beaumont stole second. The double steal was then tried and Catcher McLean completed his part all right by throwing the ball to the pitcher, but Nichols' return of the ball was wild and Leach slid over the plate with the run. Beaumont counted a moment later on Wagner's single to center.

Harry Smith opened the eighth with an infield single, but was forced at second by Flaherty. Leach drove the ball down the first base line, Beckley allowing the sphere to pass through his legs, and it counted for a three-base hit, Flaherty scoring. Leach got home on a fine single to left by Clarke. The Cardinals' only tally was scored in the eighth by Nichols, and good fielding prevented more scores. McLean led off this inning with a single and Nichols followed suit. A base on balls to Farrell filled the corners. Shannon's rap was a weak one along the third base foul line, and McLean was out at the plate. Nichols scored on Beckley's out at first. In the ninth, with two out, the Cardinals, by reason of errors by Leach and Wagner, had the bases filled, but Farrell flied out to Clarke, ending the game. The score:

Brooklyn Won in the Ninth.

BROOKLYN, June 24.—The home team scored another victory over Philadelphia today by the score of 4 to 3. The visitors outbatted the locals, but were slovenly in fielding. The batting feature was a home run in the sixth inning, made by Dooin, who was playing third base in place of Hall. Score:

NOT A HIT OR RUN FOR INTERSCHOLASTIC TEAM

Pitcher Upp of Homestead Was Too Much for the Schoolboys. Doyle Pitched Well.

The Interscholastics were defeated by H. L. A. C. in a twilight game at Homestead last evening by 2 to 0. Upp of Grove City, who pitched for Homestead, played a brilliant game, striking out 14 men and allowing not a single hit. BADGER CREWS READY FOR RACE

Westerners Reach Poughkeepsie and Oarsmen in Best of Condition—O'Dea Keeps Mum.

GUESSING ON THE RACE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 24.—Wisconsin's crew squad, the varsity eight and four and their substitutes, have arrived here. The Badgers are in the best of condition and on their work so far this season are counted on to make the rival crews hustle.

Andrew O'Dea, the coach, maintains a discreet silence as to his eight's chances, but in confidence he has expressed the opinion that he has an eight of championship calibre. For six years now Wisconsin has competed at Poughkeepsie without once winning the varsity race, but next Tuesday the Badgers think they have a better chance to come off victorious than they have ever had. He proposes that they should take light practice tomorrow and Monday, just sufficient to hold their form.

The present varsity combination contains only four of last season's crew—Stevenson, the stroke; Miller, No. 7; Jordan, No. 6, and Bartlett, No. 2.

Courtney has eased down in the work he demands of his men, which is taken as evidence of the fact that he is pretty thoroughly satisfied that they are as perfect as lies within their power.

Georgetown's crew is going to try to win the varsity race, but what she confidently anticipates is finishing second or third, and if her men can do that they will be perfectly satisfied. The eight has received somewhat of a setback because of the illness of Atkinson. He has been replaced in the varsity by Canario of the four.

Pennsylvania's four is coming into prominence as a possible victor, because in a recent trial under very bad water conditions the four did a two-mile trial in considerably under 11 minutes.

Columbia is a dark horse of a very ebony hue. The crews practice unaccompanied by any save the Columbia rowing authorities. No one sees their work to any extent, and the Columbia men are forbidden to make public any information about what the crew does in practice. It is common report, however, that Columbia has a pretty good eight, considerably better than last year.

CHICAGO BEAT SHARON.

Pitcher Mueller Showed Clever Work Against the Leaguers.

SHARON, PA., June 24.—(Special.)—Fifteen hundred people saw the local team defeated here this afternoon by the Chicago National league club. It was a pitchers' battle between Mueller, the local slab artist, and Lundgren, with honors about even. Sharon got its only run in the first inning, when Rudolph landed on one of Lundgren's shoots and hit it over the left field fence for a home run. Mueller did remarkable work for Sharon. He gave the visitors only five scattering hits and struck out three of the visitors in succession. He did not give a base on balls and fanned six men. Three of the visitors' runs were made through errors at critical stages of the game. The fielding of Tinker and Evers, Mueller and Crum was the feature. Gibson caught a fine game for Sharon and did good stick work. Score:

Notes of the Game.

Sam Riter must either eat less, stoop more or bust.

Thompson, Yale 1, was seriously handicapped by not being able to play in his bare feet.

Watermelon Mitchell, the man with the green hat, excelled in fielding the ball in.

Patton of the Xanthas played in his old-time form.

Robert Fitzsimmons Doyle has a shy foot as well as being shy of hair.

Dr. McClelland advises us he could not play, as Marshall Christy had stolen his baseball clothes.

If Walker could settle a strike as well as he strikes out he would be a wonder.

Kangaroo Thaw has been especially engaged by Harry Davis to open the fall season with his inimitable "loop the loop."

The Vital Question

Most Names by Which Diseases Are Known Are Merely Technical Terms to Distinguish Slight Differences.

Chronic maladies are due to two conditions: First, to poor blood and disordered circulation; second, to a lack of nervous force and unequal distribution of it. In other words, we may look to the blood and nerves for most of the lingering ills that weaken, plague or wreck human kind. This explains why Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food cures so many diseases that bear distinctive names. It puts the blood and nerves right, and through them the whole system comes right. This concentrated Food is a blood builder, which so improves the vital fluid that it thoroughly nourishes every part of the body. It is also a powerful vitalizer, that gives an abundant store of energy to the nerve centers, which is distributed to every part, according to its needs. Price 50 cents, five boxes, enough to give it a fair trial, $2.00. Weigh yourself before taking it. Book free.

FOOD FOR THE JAIL INMATES

County Controller Receives Bids for Supplying the Denizens of the Prison.

GREAT QUANTITY OF BREAD

Bids for supplying the county jail with bread and meat were received until 4 o'clock yesterday in the county controller's office. Inquiry at the jail and reference to the controller's report for last year developed some interesting facts concerning the amount of food required by the prisoners.

More bread was used in the jail last month than for any corresponding period in the history of the institution, 18,000 pounds having been consumed by the prisoners, there being more prisoners than ever before. The bread is good, as good as eaten by the average Pittsburgh family, and it costs the Allegheny county jail less than any other jail in the state, except Philadelphia's, because of the large quantities used. Of course, institutions like penitentiaries and workhouses bake their own bread.

Two bids are required on meat, which is beef only. Bidders must say what they will furnish good boiling beef for, free from bone and fat, the amount of soup bone to be named by the warden, and must also give prices on good boiling beef with 25 per cent of bone. On days when less soup is made the jail wants beef free from bone and fat, while on days when soup is dinner 25 per cent of bone is to accompany the meat.

The average consumption of beef has been 60 pounds a day, although some days it is less and some days more, depending upon the number of prisoners.

Of course, the prisoners get other things to eat, for among the supplies used at the jail are beans, dried peas, lentils, maccaroni, barley, potatoes and cabbage. No bids are received for these staples. The warden buys them in the open market, and one of the qualifications of a good warden is the ability to gauge the market and buy in large quantities when the grains and vegetables named are cheapest.

Fried potatoes are a luxury that a few prisoners enjoy, and the potatoes are often fried in marrow from the soup bones. The prisoners who receive fried potatoes are only those who do hard work about the institution, and it is said that when they get that desired dish the sound of the smacking of their lips can be heard a considerable distance.

The bids on meat and bread will be opened at the next meeting of the board. Some members of the board believe that, at the present price of beef, the bills for feeding the prisoners will be much greater for the ensuing fiscal year than ever before, unless the number of prisoners is lessened.

FOUND HUMAN SKULL UNDER OLIVER AVENUE

Italian Workman Struck With a Pickaxe and Out Rolled the the Gruesome Specimen.

A shriek from one of the Italians working by artificial light early yesterday morning in the water pipe ditch in Oliver avenue drew the attention of his colaborers. They saw Giuseppe cross himself rapidly several times and when they perceived the object that had aroused his alarm they themselves fell to chattering. It was a human skull, clay stained, that had rolled from the dirt at a blow of the Italian's pickaxe.

Much speculation was caused, the foreman wondering how the skull got there, the ditch being separated from the Trinity church grave yard by a stone wall, the foundation of which reaches below the level of the ditch. An inspection indicates that it is not of a white man, but probably of an Indian. It is remarkably long from the front to the rear, the cheek bones are high and the upper jaw protrudes. One good tooth is left.

The presence of the skull is easily accounted for. Oliver avenue is old Virgin alley, called in the days of the French occupation "The Way of the Virgin." It was a trail leading through the woods from Fort Duquesne to the burying ground. Evidently the British and later the Americans, in widening the forest trail and extending it up toward Grant's hill, occupied part of the old grave yard, and for more than 100 years the foot of the pedestrian has trodden over the remains of the Indian whose skull now decorates a desk in The Gazette's editorial rooms, where McKees Rocks archaeological explorers and Pittsburgh antiquarians and anthropologist are welcome to inspect it.

The remainder of the Indian and perhaps the bones of many of the redmen and of French soldiers may still be concealed under the pavement of Oliver avenue, but the foreman is no anthropologist and his men are not deviating from the straight line of the ditch to make further discoveries.

TELLURIDE MERCHANT AGAIN FORCED TO LEAVE

Arrangements Being Made to Deport 100 Miners from Cripple Creek District.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

TELLURIDE, COL., June 24.—Harry A. Floaten, a merchant, who was deported by the military two weeks ago and who had returned home, departed again today, after being waited on by a committee of citizens, who warned him that his life would be in peril if he remained here. The only accusation made against him by Capt. Bulkeley Wells, who ordered him to leave before martial law was suspended, was that he received on deposit at his store funds of the local miners' union.

CRIPPLE CREEK, COL., June 24.—The military commission held an all-day session to dispose of the cases of 100 men now imprisoned in the various jails and "bullpens" in the district. Col. Edward Verdeckberg, commanding officer, said today, that upon the return of Gen. Sherman M. Bell from Denver tonight, or tomorrow, arrangements will be made for deportation of prisoners against whom no criminal charges are made.

BUTTE, MONT., June 24.—The Butte miners' union will donate $25,000 to the Colorado miners to assist them in testing the validity of the Colorado supreme court decision which upheld the military government's action in suspending the habeas corpus and allowing President Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners to remain in jail without a charge having been placed against him.

SOCIETY

MR. AND MRS. ANDREW W. MELLON and Miss Marion McLean are now in Paris to attend the wedding of Miss Martha Leishman, daughter of John G. A. Leishman, United States minister to Turkey, and Count Louis de Voutamp Biron, June 28. Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. McLean of Winebiddle avenue received a cable from their daughter yesterday stating that she, with Mr. and Mrs. Mellon, with whom she is spending the summer, had just arrived in Paris, where they would remain for the wedding, in the Church of St. Pierre de Chailiot at noon next Tuesday. A reception will follow the ceremony at the apartments of the bride's parents, in the Bois de Boulogne.

Miss Leishman received her education in Paris, having been quite young when her parents left this country, eight years ago. She is their eldest child, the other children being Miss Nancy Leishman and Master Jack Leishman. Her fiance is a member of an old French family and is wealthy, owning vast estates in France. Several Pittsburghers have met him during their travels abroad, among them Mrs. Edward L. Clarke and her daughter, Miss Marion Clarke, who toured Europe last year before Miss Clarke was introduced to society.

Mr. and Mrs. Mellon and Miss McLean sailed from New York on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse late in May. After a short time in England they went to Dublin, where they spent a few days last week. Before returning to England they will make an automobile tour of France. The remainder of the summer will be spent at "Datchet," the beautiful country place which Mr. and Mrs. Mellon have rented for two years. The estate is in Windsor park, adjoining the castle, and is a magnificent specimen of an old English home. It faces directly on the Thames and is surrounded by thick hedges and extensive grounds, customary to the British estates. Mr. and Mrs. McLean will remain in Pittsburgh until the latter part of July, when they expect to visit with some friends at Lake George, and later will have apartments at one of the Bridgeton (Me.) hotels.

Mrs. Clarkson's Bridge Luncheon.

The new Country club house was again the scene of a smart little entertainment, when Mrs. George Taylor Clarkson of Stratford avenue gave a bridge whist and luncheon yesterday. There was no special guest of honor, the entertainment being a pleasant little farewell for the friends of the hostess, who will leave the city today with Mr. Clarkson for their summer home in Erie, Pa. Only four tables of bridge were used yesterday and the luncheon of 16 covers previously was served at one large table. Both the luncheon table and the card tables were placed on the spacious veranda which, since the placing of the flower boxes around the edge, is even more attractive than before. Many palms are always placed about the porch and the only additional decoration yesterday was the centerpiece of gladiolas on the luncheon table. On Sunday Mrs. Clarkson will leave Erie for Spring Lake, to be a member of a house party assembling on that day at Mrs. Charles L. Taylor's summer home. The house party, which is the second which Mrs. Taylor has entertained, the first having been unmarried guests, will break up in a week. Among other Pittsburgh people who will spend the summer at Erie are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jewett Orth of Morewood avenue.

A Quiet Home Wedding.

Although the wedding of Miss Mabel Priscilla Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson, and Winton Watkins Boyd on June 30 will be a very quiet affair, it is of interest to a large circle of friends in the city and in Wilkinsburg. The Rev. Robert Bruce Cuthbert, who is a family friend, will officiate, and Miss Elabeth Stoner will play the wedding march, the only attendants being Dr. B. H. Patterson, a brother of the bride, and Warren Focer of Pitman Grove, N. J., a cousin, who will act as ribbon bearers. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Focer of Pitman Grove will be among the out-of-town guests at the wedding. The ceremony will be performed at 8:30 o'clock in the evening, the guests including only the relatives and most intimate friends. The bridal couple, after their wedding trip, will take possession of their new home in Trenton avenue, Wilkinsburg, receiving their friends after September 1. The rehearsal for the wedding will take place on Wednesday, June 29, Mr. and Mrs. Patterson giving the dinner. Mr. Boyd is secretary of the First National bank of Wilkinsburg. His fiancee has been a teacher in the Sterrett school for the past five years.

Aronson, Miss Emma Aronson, Mrs. Nellie G. Blackburn, Miss Minnie Bechter, Miss Helen Blumenthal, Miss Bessie Bier, Miss May Bowman, Miss Anna Bowles, Charles Bernd, Ray Condon, Miss Margaret Craig, Miss Marion Donahue, Miss Helen Erskine, Harry Dillon, Miss Bertha Graham, Miss Irene Henninger, Miss Ellen Jones, Miss Katherine Kirby, Miss Zulu Meiser, Miss Mamie Hawkins, Miss Mary Miller, Miss Nellie Meng, Miss Annetta Miller, Miss Adelaide Miller, Miss Mary McMinn, Miss Besse Rosenthal, Miss Sadie Rosenthal, Miss Fanny Rosenthal, Miss May Reynolds, Miss Ida Smith, Miss May Smith, Miss Anna Sadler, Miss Dora Stahl, Miss Florence Cochrane, Miss Florence Taylor and Miss Katherine Thompson. The summer term at the conservatory will open on July 6. On Tuesday the pupils will hold their annual outing in Cascade park.

In Honor of Bride and Bridegroom.

Mrs. Emma Talmage entertained the members of the Six Hand Euchre club of Wilkinsburg last evening at her home in Winebiddie avenue. The guests of honor were Miss Cora Garside and John McCarthy, whose wedding will take place next Thursday. Five tables were in use.

The wedding of Miss Garside and Mr. McCarthy will be a very quiet affair at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Margaret Garside, in Luna street, East End. There will be no attendants and the guests will include only the immediate relatives and most intimate friends. Mr. McCarthy is a salesman for the C. C. Mellor company.

Art Exhibition by Students.

The annual reception and exhibition of the Stevenson Art school takes place in the studios, 417 Wood street, next Wednesday afternoon, when oil paintings, water colors, crayon and charcoal drawings, decorative designs and sketches, the work of the students, will be shown. On Tuesday the judges, who consist of Clarence Johns, Charles Walz, A. F. King and Mrs. Oscar Rodgers, will make known the result of their deliberations or awards. On Tuesday evening the annual "studio party" will take place in the school. During July the students will spend a vacation in outdoor sketching near Castle Shannon, the home of Mr. Stevenson.

Miss Nicholson Was Hostess.

Miss Jeannette Hartley Nicholson, whose wedding to J. Raymond Price will be an event of Tuesday, gave a dinner of nine covers last evening, preceding the rehearsal for the wedding. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Will Price, the parents of the bridegroom; Miss Myrtle Price, his sister; Miss Edna Little, who will be the maid of honor; Hugh Fullerton, the best man; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Nicholson and the bride and bridegroom-elect. Miss Nicholson presented Miss Little, who will be her only attendant, with an exquisite pearl necklace, and Mr. Fullerton received a diamond pearl stick pin from Mr. Price.

Pleasant Surprise Affair.

Percy G. Digby of Fairmount avenue, East End, was host at an exceedingly pleasant little entertainment last evening, it being a surprise for his wife, his niece, Miss Mabel Bown of St. Louis, who is now visiting Mr. and Mrs. Digby, and Herbert Davis of Wilkinsburg, who has recently returned from abroad where he was a vocal pupil of Neilson for three years. After an informal musicle a dance was given.

Second Wedding Anniverary.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schnabel of Frankstown avenue celebrated the second anniversary of their wedding last evening by giving a euchre and musicale at their home. The affair was informally conducted. Among those who contributed to the musical program were a sister and brother of the host, Miss Nancy Schnabel and Walter Schnabel. Mrs. Schnabel was Miss Bertha Hare before her marriage.

Stewart-Campbell.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 24.—(Special.)—Rev. W. A. Campbell and Miss Sarah Stewart were married at New Wilmington last night. The ceremony was solemnized at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell came here last night and left today on an extended wedding trip, after which they will live in New Wilmington.

Closing Reception.

The Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music closed its term last evening with the annual reception and dance given by the director, Beveridge Webster, and the members of the faculty for the pupils.

For Miss Singer's Guest.

Miss Ruth Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Hay Walker, Jr.'s, daughter, gave a prettily appointed dinner last evening in honor of Miss Helen Stark of Saginaw, an Ogontz schoolmate who is visiting Miss Hester Singer.

INSANITY PLEA TO SAVE ACCUSED WOMAN'S LIFE

Mrs. Bendinger's Husband Testifies in Her Defense—Jury Has the Case.

Insanity caused by the supposed loss of her husband's affections was the plea of the lawyers, in criminal court yesterday, who were trying to save the life of their client, Mrs. Minnie Bendinger, on trial for the murder of Mrs. Laura E. Rubright. In opening the case for the defense, Attorney Haymaker said Mrs. Bendinger's mind had been deranged by neighbors telling her of her husband's attentions to Mrs. Rubright. She lost 20 pounds in weight and was ill for 30 days, being confined to her bed until a few days before the shooting.

Hugh Bendinger, husband of the accused, said his wife was ill before the tragedy and that on the night of the shooting he had gone from Wilmerding to Braddock with Mrs. Rubright. Bendinger said he believed his wife was insane. Three brothers and a sister-in-law of the defendant also believed Mrs. Bendinger insane.

Doctors M. T. McKinney and C. C. Wylie both said they had examined the defendant and thought her mentally irresponsible. The defense concluded its case in the afternoon and at the night session the lawyers made their arguments, John Marron speaking for the defense and Assistant District Attorney Robb for the prosecution. Judge Rodgers devoted neary an hour in his change to the jury, which is still out.

As Mrs. Bendinger was being led back to jail last night her husband shook hands with her and kissed her

RAIN IN MILWAUKEE DOES GREAT DAMAGE

MILWAUKEE, WIS., June 24.—Two and one-half inches of rain fell in about an hour today, doing damage amounting to thousands of dollars. The city hall basement had about a foot of water and nearly every basement in the business section of the city was flooded, water backing up from sewers, which were unable to carry it off. The damage of rain was followed by the highest temperature of the season, 82 degrees.

AMONG THE CLUBS

Dividing the Spoils.

The New Era club met yesterday afternoon to apportion the money earned at the garden party last week among its various philanthropic interests. At the same time the resignation of the president, Mrs. William D. Grimes, was received. It was a great surprise. Mrs. Grimes had personal reasons for taking this step and the club finally acquiesced and accepted the resignation with regret and then elected the first vice president, Mrs. James R. Kibler, to the office of president. Mrs. William Leatherman, second vice president, succeeded to the office of first vice president, and Miss Suzanne Beatty was elected second vice president, the other officers remaining as elected in May. Mrs. Grimes also resigned as delegate to the state federation, to meet in Lancaster next fall. Mrs. Kibler was elected to fill the vacancy.

The executive committee for the garden party, of which Mrs. Franklin P. Iams was chairman, reported the proceeds of that entertainment to have reached $1,048 40 after the payment of those bills which have been presented thus far. A number of others will be presented later. There was much discussion over the rate of apportionment to the charitable objects, but it was finally decided wise to designate at present no more than $700 of the whole amount. This was distributed in the following manner: Summer playgrounds and vacation schools, $150; Soho public bath and wash house, $250; juvenile court, $250; Consumers' league, $25, and to the Central Young Women's Christian association for the support of a secretary to carry on the extension work among the factory and shop girls, $25.

The approximate amounts made by the various sub-committees at the garden party are as follows: Afternoon euchre, $397; amusement hall, $100; ice cream, $40; fancy work, $80; candy, $47; flowers, $40; gypsy tent, $24; Punch and Judy show, $16; automobiles $16; vaudeville, $61; dance, $27; lemonade, $26; pillow booth, $53; supper, $15, and the gate receipts, $215 25. The amount received at the supper was small because it was not intended that supper should be served except for the aids.

Tourists at Beechwood Branch.

The Tourists' club spent yesterday afternoon and early evening at Beechwood Ranch, on the hills across the river from Sewickley. The women were the guests of Miss Marion Gaston, who entertained them in her picturesque home on the Ohio. The home is fashioned of uncut logs, the walls are not plastered and the large open fireplaces, with the outside chimney, give the house a very picturesque effect. Wide porches entirely surround it. Supper was served in one of the rooms opening out on to the porch, and the table was prettily decorated with roses and ferns. During the afternoon the members of the club tramped through the woods adjoining the house and came home last evening ladened with flowers and ferns. A short business meeting was held in the afternoon, when the program for next year was presented and accepted and several new members were elected to the club.

A SEASON OF PITTSBURGH SMOKE

Your Clothing Can Scarcely Get Through the Summer Without Having To Be Cleaned.

Bright, sunshiny days show what the dark, smoky days do to your clothing. You can scarcely wear a suit of clothes in Pittsburgh through one season until it needs cleaning.

Clothing cleaned at some establishments looks the worse for the cleaning, but the new process of the Linnekin Company makes clothing look absolutely new. After it has been cleaned it is pressed by experienced tailors.

Men's suits and the finest gowns of women are cleaned without doing the slightest injury to the goods. The prices of the Linnekin Company are 20 per cent lower than those of other establisments.

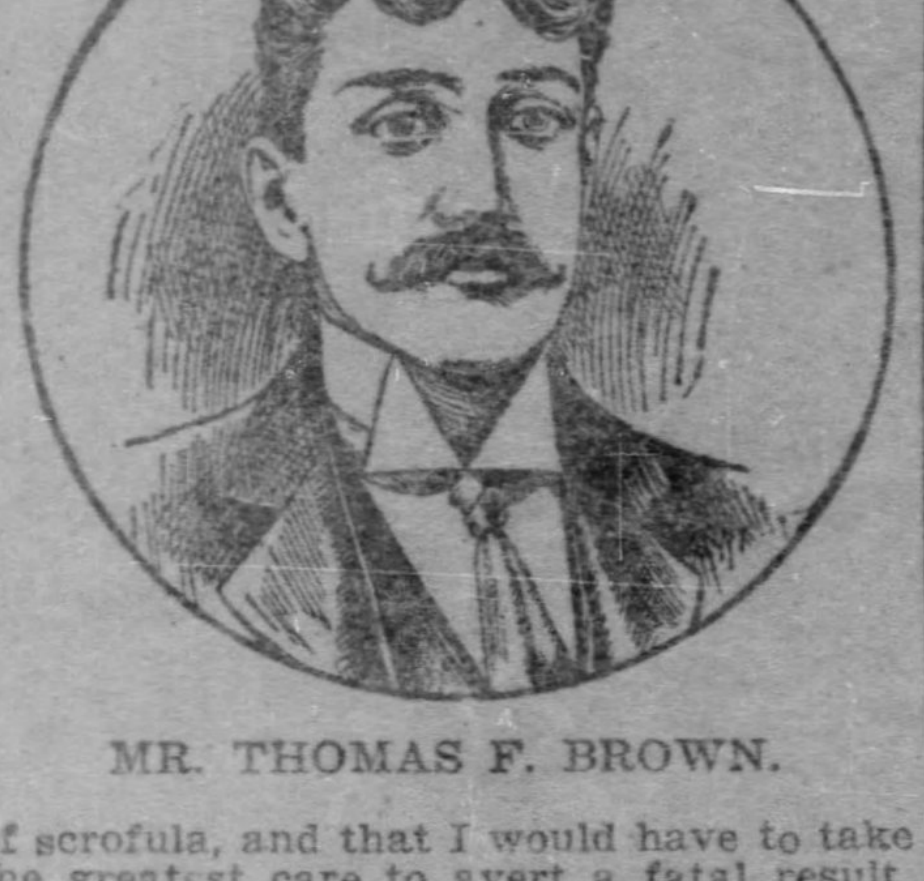
SCROFULA SPREADS

ALARM CAUSED BY AN INVASION OF ULCEROUS SORES.

Perplexity of the Doctors in a Typical and Serious Case Relieved by an Important Discovery.

The fear which is justly aroused by the appearance of a disease with such fatal tendencies as scrofula, will be relieved by a statement of a recent remarkable cure. Mr. Thomas F. Brown of the Hume Carriage Company, Amesbury, Mass., says:

"About two years ago I was affected with a scrofulas disease which spread over my whole body. It first affected the glands in my neck and then broke out over my chest and other parts of my body. I became greatly alarmed at the spreading of the disease, and consulted physicians in Amesbury and in Newburyport. They told me that I had a bad case of scrofula, and that I would have to take the greatest care to avert a fatal result. They pronounced my blood to be in a bad condition, and said a long time would be necessary to put me in a healthy state.



MR. THOMAS F. BROWN.

"There was chronic inflammation all over my body wherever the disease had spread; there would be a discharge of yellow-colored pus where the skin would break and would leave an ulcer-like sore. These sores would dry up for awhile, only to break and discharge again.

"The medicines which the physicians prescribed had no effect in checking the disease, and I was in a most miserable state of discouragement. One day I heard the doctor say that there was danger of the disease terminating in consumption. Then I began to lose all hope.

"One day, however, as I lay in bed reading a newspaper, I read an article recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People very highly for diseases of the blood, and, as the doctor's treatment during the preceding three months had done me no good, I decided to stop it and take the pills.

"After I had taken three boxes I saw that the inflammation was going down and that there were fewer sores on my body. I realized that I was improving, and I continued to use the pills until I had taken eight boxes. Then I was entirely cured. I am now enjoying good health, have a keen appetite and can do as big a day's work as at any time before I was stricken down, and I firmly believe that I owe my present excellent physical condition to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." This great remedy is sold by all druggists throughout the world.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

CAPITAL FOR BUSINESS PURPOSE—One of the leading features of my business is to consider for clients the subject of capital for good enterprises, especially manufacturing, in which cases I am usually successful, but not always. Prefer proposition already in successful operation, but requiring additional capital to keep pace with a healthy demand. Projects, untried and commercially unknown, especially if presented by persons totally without capital, cannot be considered, because the investor would not accept them, and it would only be wasted energy on my part to submit them. This proposition is made only to a solid, successful and energetic type of business men of good reputation who have faith in their own enterprise and desire my services for the legitimate requirements of their business. To such persons I would extend an invitation to call upon me in perfect safety as to the matter of undue publicity. If, after consultation, incorporating should be deemed advisable, that feature can also be transacted through my office in proper legal form.

GOULD STOCKS WERE WEAK: HARRIMAN STOCKS STRONG

These Were the Features of the New York Market. Steel Preferred Declined and Rallied. Local Securities Quiet.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The local stock market may have been ripe for a reaction yesterday, because it had been steadily creeping upward for the entire week, and the Republican national convention having adjourned and no further bullish news being in sight, traders would naturally take profits. But whether due for a reaction or not, cause for one was furnished by the unexpected action of the Wabash directors in passing the interest on the debenture "A" bonds, which was taken after the close of the market on Thursday. The announcement did not appear to have any effect upon the London market, which sent higher quotations for American securities, but after a steady to firm opening here, the market turned weak and sold off sharply, particularly for the Gould securities. Wabash common opened a fraction lower at 16½ and declined to 15¾. The preferred opened a half point lower at 35½ and broke to 33¾. The debenture "B" bonds, which are widely distributed and have at times been speculative favorites, opened 2 per cent lower at 58 and declined to 56. Missouri Pacific declined ¾ per cent to 92¼. The weakness in this group of securities was the feature of the early dealings, which were more active than for several days past. The bears seized upon the incident to attack the remainder of the list, but the only stock which yielded more than a fraction was U. S. Steel preferred. The latter opened unchanged at 56⅛, sold at 56¼, and then quickly broke to 55⅛. The general list sold off fractionally.

During the midday session the market became extremely dull. The declines attracted no outside selling, and a number of stocks displayed a rallying tendency. Late in the afternoon the strength of the Harriman stocks became the feature. Union Pacific, which had held steady while the remainder of the market was declining, became very strong, advancing from 87¾ to 88¾, the latter the final sale and a net gain of 1¼ per cent for the day. Southern Pacific rallied a point to 46⅞ and closed at the top, a gain of ¾ per cent. There was no actual news to account for this strength, but the buying was good and gossip bullish, producing an immediate effect upon the remainder of the list. Everything with the exception of the Gould shares rallied, recovering nearly all the previous loss and closing firm. U. S. Steel preferred advanced to 56 and closed at that price bid, the net loss for the day being only ⅛. The bonds closed unchanged at 75⅝. Consolidated Gas was weak, selling off to 194⅝ and closing at 194¾, a net loss of 2¼ per cent. Amalgamated Copper was also heavy, opening lower at 50, declining to 49⅝ and closing at 49⅞. The remainder of the industrial list was dull and unchanged.

The course of prices yesterday indicated that the market is well under control of interests who propose to hold it steady in the face of all developments, or that the public is not forced to sell at the present time. Were the market as broad as it was a year or so ago and a security like Wabash debenture "A" which had paid its interest through the panicky conditions of the middle nineties, passed its interest, there would have been a big slump and a million-share day due to liquidation. But the total sales yesterday were only about a fourth of that amount, and except in Gould stocks the net losses for the day were confined to insignificant fractions. Even the Baltimore & Ohio statement for May, showing a decrease of $478,000 in gross and a decrease of $757,000 in net, had little or no effect, Baltimore & Ohio stock losing less than a point by selling at 80, and later recovering to 80⅝.

The money market remained easy and unchanged, the final call loan being at 1 per cent and more offered at the same rate. The preliminary estimates foreshadow an increase in cash by the New York banks today of between $5,500,000 and $6,000,000, with the probability of another addition to surplus reserves, which are already larger than at any corresponding period for five years.

The local stock market was again very quiet yesterday, the total sales slightly exceeding a 1,000 shares and $5,000 bonds. Crucible Steel preferred, after selling at 34¼, recovered to 34¾ bid at the close. The common stock rallied at 4¼. There were no transactions in any of the coal issues. Westinghouse Electric was unchanged at 78¼ and 78½. Air Brake closed at 128 bid. At the regular call of bank and trust company stocks only 35 shares changed hands at unchanged prices.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The regular dealings on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday fell below a thousand shares, and the net changes in prices were insignificant. A block of 350 shares Prudential Trust sold for account of whom it may concern, changed hands for the nominal consideration of $1, the transaction evidently being for the purpose of changing title in accordance with legal forms. There was not a single sale of the coal stocks and the bid prices were unchanged from the last previous sales. Crucible Steel preferred declined to 34¼, but was subsequently bid up to and closed at 34¾, without bringing additional offerings.

An initial sale of American Sewer Pipe 6s was recorded on the exchange yesterday, $4,000 changing hands at 94. Birmingham Traction 5s sold at 113½, a decline of ¾ from the last previous sale.

"There is no difficulty whatever in getting 5 per cent money here in Pittsburgh if you have the right kind of collateral," remarked a broker yesterday. "Some of the banks are indifferent as to whether they loan their money at that rate on call or time, and the freedom with which long-term money is offered in the east at low rates is an indication of a feeling on the part of bankers that the money market will continue easy for the remainder of the year."

The United States National bank has declared a quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable July 1.

The Iron and Glass Dollar Savings bank of Birmingham has declared a quarterly dividend of 3 per cent, payable July 1 to stock of record June 25.

The First National bank of Pittsburgh has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 4 per cent and an extra dividend of 2 per cent, out of the earnings of the current half year, both payable July 1.

The Equitable Trust Company of Pittsburgh has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable July 1 to stock of record June 21.

The Western Savings and Deposit Bank declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable July 1.

The Sewickley Valley Trust Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent.

The transfer books of the Safe Deposit and Trust Company will be closed from June 25 at noon to July 1 at 10 a. m., on account of the regular quarterly dividend of 4 per cent.

The net earnings of Wheeling & Lake Erie for May decreased $69,000.

The gross earnings of Wabash for the third week in June increased $60,000.

The American Locomotive Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable July 21 to stock of record June 30.

A Wall street news agency yesterday issued the following bulletin of local interest: "The report from Pittsburgh that some of the stockholders there of the Westinghouse Electric Company were dissatisfied because the company had not held an annual meeting or election since 1897, and had not published any report for a number of years, caused amusement on the part of some of the largest interests connected with the company. They said they had heard of no dissatisfaction on the part of any of the stockholders. The company is chartered under a special law in the state of Pennsylvania, and the holding of annual meetings or elections is not necessary under that charter. The controlling interest of the company is held by very few stockholders, and should annual meetings be held it would be to go through the formality of a re-election of the present directors and officers. As there was nothing to be gained by this, the meetings and elections have not been held. It has not been customary for the company to issue extended financial statements because it was not considered good business policy to do so. Statements as to earnings and other details are made from time to time for the stock exchange and these statements are circulated freely. Anyone who desires can obtain a copy of these."

A Toronto dispatch says: "The belief is growing here even among the best friends of the enterprise that the Dominion Iron and Steel Company will have to undergo drastic reorganization before it can be placed on a paying basis. It is said that some of the directors recognize this fact and have discussed the question pretty fully, though they have decided upon nothing definite. A scaling down of the capital is one of the proposals, however, involving a probable retirement of the entire issue of common stock."

The usual preliminary estimates of the week's currency movement indicated a strong flow still in force towards New York, probabilities pointing to another rise in New York's record bank reserves of nearly $6,000,000. An expansion of loans is expected to result from the bond operations of the week, but scarcely sufficient to offset the advantage to the surplus of the cash inflow. The stock market was benefited by the forecast of the bank statement and by intimations of a cheerful view of the commercial outlook by the mercantile agencies.

The passing of the interest on Wabash A bonds, although it is a contingent liability, was quite a shock to speculative sentiment and weighed on the whole list in sympathy. The Wabashes broke violently, the A bonds themselves 7½ points, the debenture Bs 4 points, the preferred stock 2¼ and the common stock 1¼.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The Buena Vista mine, at La Yesca, Tepic, is now yielding $80,000 to $90,000 per month, all brought about by American mining men who took hold of it a few years ago. The ore runs from 2 to 2½ kilos of silver and from 12 to 14 grams of gold per ton. The mill on the property is of 100 tons daily capacity. On the same vein the Zapopan Gold Mining Company, composed of Guadalajara people, among whom are Dr. George E. Purnell and C. C. Bruckner, is pursuing active development work. This latter concern is also operating the San Miguel mine, also in the La Yesca district. Considerable ore is being taken out and a 25-ton mill was to have been started up this week.

The Masontown Mining and Milling Company's 20-stamp and cyaniding mill near Frisco is running on ore that averages, by assay tests, about $16 per ton. The mill was first set to work on the first of June, and after a two weeks' run a cleanup will be made.

In sinking the discovery shaft on the Gray Eagle, one of the properties of the Custer Mining and Realty Company, on the big quartz dyke that runs across the claim, assays running $16 in gold have been obtained, although solid formation has not been reached. Rich float has been picked up on this ground, and the indications point to a rich ore body in this vicinity. This is comparatively virgin ground, as there are only a few holes, none of them being more than 10 feet deep, near the claim. The Grey Eagle lies to the west of the townsite of Custer, Colorado.

Work is being vigorously prosecuted on the Denoro claim in Summit camp. The Canadian Pacific railway runs across the property, and the right of way for the Great Northern road into Phoenix camp is now cleared across the claim. The Great Northern will cross about 50 feet lower down the hill than the Canadian Pacific, and pass the mouth of the tunnel being run to tap the ore at a lower level.

Just across the gulch from the Denoro is the Emma claim. This property, served now by the Canadina Pacific, will also have shipping facilities over the Great Northern. About 25 men are taking out good ore.

The output of the C. K. and N. mine on Beacon hill this month will reach about 1,000 tons, a decrease of about one-half of the usual tonnage made from the property. The ore will average between $75 and $80 per ton, making the total output worth about $75,000 for the month. With the completion of the Florence & Cripple Creek switch to the ore bins, which will be now very soon, the tonnage will go considerably over 2,000 tons per month.

The average grade of the ore shipped this month from the El Paso mine will be about $125 per ton, making it the highest grade, with the exception of the W. P. H. ore, being shipped from the Cripple Creek district. The company expects that the output this month will be valued at fully $100,000.

May was the biggest month experienced by Lessees Harrison and Seaver since the very rich strike made in January, says the Cripple Creek Times. These fortunate lessees are shipping out a carload of ore a day, and the ore is running from 4 to 5 ounces in carload lots. On the 245-foot level, where the rich ore was found, the vein has widened out until it is from 10 to 20 feet in width on the third level, or at a depth of 325 feet the vein varies from 6 feet to 15 feet. Assays recently taken on the foot-wall gave returns ranging from $25 to $627. The ore in this vein ranges in value from 7 to 15 ounces. June promises to equal, and it may eclipse, the output of May. The lessees are making a big fortune and are making it mighty fast. It doesn't take long to make money when the tonnage is being made in carload lots and the ore is running better than $100 to the ton.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, June 24.—The London tin market showed another slight improvement with spot closing at £119 5s and futures at £118 17s 6d. The local market responded to the advance with a slight gain, though demand showed no appreciable improvement. Spot is quoted at $26 00@26 45. Copper was a little easier in London, closing at £56 13s 9d for spot and £56 12s 6d for futures. The local market is quoted firm at $12 62½@12 75 for spot; $12 50@12 62½ for electrolytic and $12 12½@12 25 for castings. Lead advanced to £11 10s for spot in the London market, but remained quiet and unchanged here at $4 20@4 30. Spelter closed at $4 75@4 87½ in New York, or net unchanged, while London was a little higher at £22 2s 6d. Iron closed at 51s 3d in Glasgow and at 42s 9d in Middlesboro. Locally, iron is unchanged; No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $14 50@15 00; No. 2 foundry northern at $13 75@14 25; No. 1 foundry southern and No. 1 foundry southern, soft, at $13 25@13 75.

PITTSBURGH INDUSTRIAL EXCHANGE.

Another quiet week characterized the dealings on the Pittsburgh industrial exchange. The Cripple Creek, Utah and Black Hills stocks were traded in to some extent, but the rest of the market was practically neglected.

The Portland mine of Cripple Creek, which was recently shut down by order of the Colorado measure, was re-opened during the week and will soon have a full force of men working.

Word comes from the Bald Butte mine to the effect that in the drift on the 400-foot level a new vein of good milling ore has been encountered. The drift has been drifting on this vein over 60 feet, values have steadily increased and the vein is now 5 feet wide, of high grade ore. A large amount of high grade ore has been opened up by the new management in this property and preparations are being made to start the mill going, when it is expected this mine will once more occupy its place among the dividend payers which it held for so many years.

WABASH DECISION DOMINATED STOCKS

Omission of Semi-Annual Interest Payment Influences Wall Street.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 25.—The Herald this (Saturday) morning says:

Stock movements were dominated yesterday to a great extent by the decision of the Wabash directors to omit the usual semi-annual interest payment on the debenture "A" bonds. As there are $3,500,000 of the bonds, the semi-annual interest at 6 per cent would have required the payment of $105,000. This amount was considered comparatively insignificant, but the fact that the directors had decided to pass the interest had certainly a chilling effect on speculative sentiment. Whatever may have been the reasons which induced the directors to take the step announced, the action was one which was not considered likely to promote much confidence in the general situation. Its effect was seen throughout the stock list at the opening, and the depression was not dissipated until before the close, when the aggressive buying in Southern and Union Pacific helped to brighten the minds of the traders.

There were various theories advanced and unofficial explanations made concerning the omission of the interest on the Wabash bonds. The news was a complete surprise to Wall street, for the debenture A's have long been looked upon as an assured interest payer, particularly when it is recalled that the preferred B's, according to common report, were to be soon placed on the list as recipients of some regular interest. In responsible and irresponsible quarters alike this hope of interest payments was held out, so that the passing of the interest on the preferred A's was popularly taken to mean that there were slim chances of dividends in the immediate future for the preferred B's. But beyond dashing the hopes of those who were speculatively and otherwise interested, the action must certainly command attention of the financial world to the cautious attitude of the property's managers.

The Three Rivers

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, June 24.—The stage of the river at 6 o'clock this evening marked 10.1 feet and rising, making a rise of 0.4 feet during the last 24 hours. Weather partly clear and cloudy, very hot and indications for rain tonight. All local packets in and out on time. The Henry Debus arrived from the Kanawha with coal. She delivered her tow and will repair boilers before returning to the upper river. The Exporter passed up at dark with a tow of empties from Louisville. She will go as far up the Ohio as the stage of water will permit. The new towboat Winefrede will leave Point Pleasant in the morning with a tow of coal for Cincinnati. On account of the low water she will not be able to run as fast as usual. She is expected to be here Monday morning at the latest. On account of the warmer weather of the past few days, the packets are enjoying an increased patronage in the passenger list.

CRESCENT CHANGES HANDS.

Big Steamer Bought by Jutte Coal Company for About $35,000.

Announcement was made yesterday that the C. Jutte Coal Company of this city has purchased the towboat Crescent, which has been under contract by that firm for almost a year. The boat was secured from the Schwartz Foundry and Machine Company of New Orleans, and the consideration is understood to have been about $35,000.

The Crescent was rebuilt one year ago, and is one of the largest of its kind. The charter by which the Jutte company secured the boat carried the privilege of buying. The Crescent's work during the shipping season of the past few months has been very satisfactory, and the steamer will be kept in the same work. The Jutte company now has a large fleet of boats, in fact the largest of any independent river coal company. It has the Charley Jutte, G. W. Thomas, P. M. Pfeil, Gleaner, Oakland, W. C. Jutte, Aubrey, Ford City and Robert Taylor, aside from the one just purchased.

Arrivals.

Greenwood, Hughes, Charleston.
Lorena, Wallace, Zanesville.

Departures.

Woodward, Williams, Morgantown.
Greenwood, Hughes, Charleston.

More Trouble at Merriman.

The towboat Charley Brown had trouble going through the new Merriman channel Thursday night and went aground several times before she succeeded in getting out. The Harvester, which was coming up light, immediately behind the Charley Brown, did not attempt to go through and laid up at Sewickley.

The channel was made wider there some time ago; in fact, a new channel was built in conjunction with the new No. 2 dam there. Government officials in charge of the work say the new channel was dredged out well and scraped and that investigations since then have shown that the channel is in good shape save when the water gets too low. However, the rivermen who are interested in navigation through there hold that huge boulders are in the bottom of the channel and that it is getting harder to take a boat through every day.

Local River Notes.

The stage of water in the Ohio river, according to the gauges at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night, was 5.2 feet and stationary.

The Virginia is due from Cincinnati today.

The I. C. Woodward got away for Morgantown yesterday with a good trip. It was her first one out of here this season, and the boat made a fine appearance as she pulled out with her decks crowded with passengers.

Fog delayed packets all Thursday night; the Lorena did not get in until yesterday afternoon from Zanesville, and the Greenwood was very late from Charleston. However, the rivers are at a good packet boat stage.

The United States marine hospital office, which has been in the Federal building for a number of years, will be moved to 208 Wood street July 1. A suite of rooms has been secured in Wood street, which, according to Dr. W. H. Meade, who is in charge of the service here, will be better than the old location because of its being so near the river front.

HIS DAY OF DEATH.

New York Electrician's Dream Comes True While Working on Third Rail.

NEW YORK, June 24.—(Special.)—Before James A. Jennings, an electrician employed on the elevated road, left his home today he said to his wife:

"Mary, I had a dream last night that makes me feel rather shaky. I was sitting on a rock down by the river, when a white figure came out of the water and said to me, 'Today you die.' Then I woke up, trembling all over."

Mrs. Jennings told her husband that dreams always went by contraries. He, nevertheless, kissed his wife and three children with unusual fervor as be left his home.

About two hours later Jennings was sent to work on a third rail that had become loose. He was stretched out face downward across the track when a train started out of the station. In the bustle of starting, Motorman Kelly did not see the electrician, whose body was flattened out on the tracks. The train was within 150 feet of the prostrate man when the motorman saw him and blew his whistle. Jennings scrambled to his feet, but in jumping tripped and fell under the wheels of the motor car that had rolled swiftly upon him.

FINE ALLOTMENTS ON THE WABASH

Local Company Will Market Choice Property at Gould City.

100 HOUSES FOR HILL DISTRICT

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Wabash Improvement Company yesterday afternoon it was decided to put on the market a big addition to the company's Gould City allotment at Bridgeville. The property was formerly known as the Judge Ewing farm of 95 acres, and was bought last year for $60,000. More than one-half of the 859 lots plotted were sold at the opening sale last summer, which was the largest one-day lot sale of the season. The sale of the addition will probably be held early in July or soon after the Wabash starts its trains. A total of over $14,000 has been spent in improving the new allotment. All the streets have been graded and three of them paved. Four-foot cement walks and stone curbing have been laid on Washington avenue and boardwalks are down on the other main streets. Recently the company contracted with the Chartiers Valley Water Company for a supply of water. The plan has the advantage of both natural gas and artificial gas, the main line of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company passing directly through the property. The average size of the lots is 20x100 feet, and the average price $350. A notable fact in connection with the property is the rapid enhancement in values as shown by the assessments of this year. Although the property cost the company only $60,000, it is assessed now at $108,000, and lots in Washington avenue that sold last year for $39 a front foot were assessed last spring for $100 a foot. The officers of the company are: President, George F. Protzman; secretary, D. C. Farrar; treasurer, J. P. Barr.

Property on Hill Brings $35,000.

Through the office of J. H. O'Donnell 49 lots in the Thirteenth ward belonging to John F. Sweeney have been sold to John R. Welsh for $35,000. The lots average 25x120 feet, and are in Webster avenue, Wandless and Howard streets. The buyer proposes to build 100 houses of four and six rooms, which will cost $2,500 each.

R. J. Conley has sold to John C. Aufhammer 25x145 feet on the north side of Penn avenue, between Negley avenue and Beatty street, Nineteenth ward, for $29,000. The lot extends back to Kirkwood street and is improved with a brick building. At this price the lot brought $800 a front foot. The deal, however, was partly trade, Mr. Conley receiving in part payment 73x140 feet at the northwest corner of Shady avenue and Monitor street, and 50x153 feet at the southwest corner of Shady avenue and Birchfield street, Twenty-second ward. These plots were put into the deal at $10,000. The trade was made by F. O. Van Gorder.

It developed that A. Z. Byers & Co. were the brokers in the sale of the H. G. Morgan residence in Braddock avenue, Twenty-second ward, which was noted in The Gazette yesterday. The buyer is James J. Corcoran, who paid $20,000 for the property for a home. The residence is an exceptionally good one, containing 14 rooms finished in hardwood, after the style of the congressional library at Washington. It is situated opposite the Lovejoy mansion and near Richland lane, one of the most aristocratic localities in the city.

Fine Weather Is Selling Lots.

The fine weather of the past few days has been a great encouragement to lot plan owners, whose sales have lately exceeded expectations. A second big sales day is looked for today on the Paul place allotment in the West Liberty district, where 119 lots were sold the opening day. Sales in Schwitter West View plan of the Allegheny-Bellevue Land Company continue to be steady, the feature of the business being the number of home seekers who return to the property three or four times, as if charmed by its natural beauty, and finally select a home site. In the West Liberty No. 5 plan of the Beechwood Improvement Company, limited, there are few lots left and more resales are reported than for months, owing to the near approach of the time when the tunnel street car line will make the property only 10 minutes from the postoffice. During the week a number of choice lots have been sold in the Economy property, most of them for business purposes. The conspicuous feature of the lot market this year is that cheap lots are the favorites. In every plan marketed the cheap lots have been sold first, and gradually the better lots on the main streets were picked out. The assurance of quick transportation facilities in the near future on some of the allotments is stimulating activity to a point that was not looked for a month ago.

Glazier & Wood have completed plans for 10 houses which they will build in Oregon avenue, in their Crafton center allotment. The contract for the first two of the houses has been awarded to Charles Benney of Crafton. They will be 10-room, reception hall brick dwellings on lots 50x110 feet, and will cost $5,000 each.

Kerr & Fox have the contract from Architect James T. Steen for the addition to the Dollar Savings bank in Fourth avenue. The addition will be in the form of two wings and a rear room, and will cost $80,000. The new quarters will be elaborately finished in marble and mahogany and will be, when completed, as fine banking rooms as can be found in the city.

Architects A. Dudgeon & Son of Wilkinsburg have awarded the contract to S. L. Smith & Co. for a three-story brick apartment house for David L. Lang at Union and Mifflin streets, Wilkinsburg, to cost $13,500.

Architects Milligan & Miller are receiving estimates on a country residence for J. A. Schaub, to be built on the pike road leading from Wilkinsburg to Turtle Creek.

Masonic Temple Will Help Values.

The purchase of a site for a Masonic temple in Forbes street, detailed in another column, will do much to help the values of Oakland realty. Aside from the desirability of having the headquarters of the Masonic orders there, the erection of a $300,000 building will add greatly to the attractiveness of the street. The substantial character of the buildings erected in Oakland since 1900 may be given as the chief cause of the rapid enhancement in property values, for they have brought this part of the Fourteenth ward to special notice as a business center. Many predict that the removal of the hump, if it occurs, will also be a strong uplifting factor in Oakland property values, and good locations there are being closely held in consequence.

The attempt of the Italians of Sharpsburg to buy the St. John's German Evangelical Lutheran church property in Eight street, Sharpsburg, for $20,000 has failed. The Italians are Roman Catholics and have been worshiping in the old parochial school house attached to St. Joseph's church. St. John's is said to be badly in debt, and many of the members favored a sale, but the other faction raised $3,000 toward paying the debt and voted the sale down.

SUGAR IS ADVANCING; FLOUR HOLDS ITS OWN

New California Peaches Come. Produce Business Quiet. Cheese Is Firmer.

Sugar was advanced 5 cents all around yesterday and quotations have been changed accordingly. The change has been anticipated owing to the near approach of canning time. Flour is holding firm; fluctuations in wheat are apparently having no effect on the flour market here or elsewhere. Coffee is holding steady to strong and may advance again any time.

New California peaches arrived yesterday for the first time and demanded high prices. Cantaloupes are in better demand, arrivals amounting to about 10 carloads a day are generally well cleaned up. Watermelons are selling as fast as they come in. Berries are steady generally; yesterday's market was about the same as the day before. Ohio strawberries are about out of the market. New York strawberries will be here next week. Beans are lower again. Potatoes are about steady to firm, though old stock is now practically out of the market. According to reports yesterday, Elberta (Tex.) peaches will arrive next Monday.

Cheese was firmer yesterday; so was butter. Eggs are having quite a spurt and are commanding high prices. Poultry is selling better than last week. Produce men reported trade very slow yesterday in almost every line, but dried meats of all kinds are moving better every day and more and more poultry will be consumed as the season gets warmer. There was no change in the hay situation yesterday. Ear corn is offering at 60 cents and selling in small quantities at 57 and 58 cents, though one car was sold yesterday in a hurry at 60 cents. Oats continue to look better. No changes have been made in millfeed as yet.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania, 19 cars hay, 3 cars oats, 1 car corn, 1 car feed, 1 car corn and oats, 1 car bran and corn; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 4 cars hay, 2 cars oats; Baltimore & Ohio, 9 cars hay, 1 car corn, 1 car oats.

Dealers charge an advance of 5c a bushel on grain and $3 00 a ton on hay and millfeed from warehouses in less than carload lots.

CLOUDBURST IN KANSAS BULLS WHEAT MARKET

Other Influences, Including Private Crop Report, Cause of Higher Prices.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 24.—A cloudburst in Kansas was chief among the causes of a strong wheat market here today. At the close September wheat showed a gain of ⅝c. Corn was off a shade. Oats were down ¼c and provisions were up 10 to 20c. Under the influence of higher cables and wet weather throughout the west and southwest, the wheat market started out strong. During the first hour there was a good demand from commission houses and from shorts, delay in harvesting occasioned by heavy rains in Kansas and surrounding territory being the main stimulus to buying. Later in the day local bears sold moderately and some of the early buyers followed, causing temporarily an easier tone. The July option exhibited most weakness. One influence that prompted selling was a private crop report which was construed as bearish. Another source of weakness was opinion in regard to the threshing of new wheat, returns being described as very promising. Liberal Argentina shipments which had apparently been overlooked earlier in the day also tended to depress the market. Within the last hour, however, sentiment again became bullish. An active demand for September developed as a result of large decrease in primary receipts and because of estimates that receipts for tomorrow would be small. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 51,700 bushels. Exports for the week, as shown by Bradstreets, were equal to 1,270,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 232,700 bushels, against 304,900 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 241 cars, compared with 125 cars last week and 314 cars a year ago.

The early corn market was strong with several large commission houses good buyers. The strength of wheat was the principal influence at the start. Later in the day absence of activity in the local shipping demand and an utter absence of export demand caused an easier feeling. Large Argentina shipments also had a depressing effect. Local receipts were 311 cars with 27 of contract grade.

Provisions were firm on an active demand from local packers. There was a heavy trade in ribs several large operators being active traders in that product. The selling was attributed to country packers. The main bull factor was the strength of the hog market.

Estimated receipts tomorrow: Wheat 1 car, corn 361 cars, oats 127 cars and hogs 8,000 head.

South Penn Oil Company Has Show for Good Producer

In the Mannington district, Marion county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 6 on the F. A. Rymer farm into the Big Injun and has a show for a fair producer in that formation. In the same district, the same company has put its No. 15 on the John Blackshere farm to pumping and the well produced 30 barrels the first 24 hours.

On the east side of the Folsom district, Harrison county, the South Penn has drilled its second test on the S. A. Cavalier farm 60 feet into the stray and has developed a strong gas pressure. The same company has drilled its No. 8 on the C. E. Robinson farm 45 feet into the stray and has developed no oil or gas. The test on the Agnes Looman farm has been drilled 3 feet into the Gordon and the hole has filled up 300 feet with fluid. In the Salem district, in the same county, the South Penn has completed its test on the Davisson-Smith farm and the well produced 35 barrels the first 24 hours. In the Middlebourne district, Tyler county, the same company is putting its second test on the M. H. Stealy farm to pumping and the well has been producing 15 barrels a day while cleaning out.

Southwest of the Camden-Sommers farm, on Yellow creek, Calhoun county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its wildcat on the J. S. Wolverton farm 1,000 feet below the Big Injun and at that depth found no production. It will be abandoned. North of the Camden-Sommers farm the same company has drilled its test on the R. E. Gardner farm into the Maxon sand and has developed a good gasser. The well is also spraying a little oil from that level. They will not stop to test but will drill on to the Berea grit.

In the Bens Run district, Pleasants county, the South Penn Oil Company has given its test on the Nancy Smith farm a shot, but it failed to respond and will be abandoned. In the Bonds Creek district, in Ritchie county, the Carter Oil Company's No. 3 on the Douglass reserve is holding up at 130 barrels a day and the DeLong Farm Oil Company's No. 1 on the Sarah A. DeLong farm is still producing 180 barrels a day. In the Wick district, Tyler county, the Melrose Oil and Gas Company's No. 6 on the Charles Ankrom farm is producing 150 barrels a day. The last 24 hours' gauge of the nine producing wells in the Milton district, in Cabell county, was 300 barrels in the aggregate.

On the Ohio side the late efforts in all fields, except in Jefferson county, have been rather disappointing. Small wells have been the rule generally, and in some instances dusters have been encountered where just the opposite was confidently expected. South of Woodsfield one-half mile, in Monroe county, the Ann Oil Company has drilled its test on the Rossberry Smith farm through the Big Injun and has a duster. This is a wildcat, located in advance of any previous developments. The Woodsfield district has not made good with the last six wells that have been completed.

In the same district the Unity Oil Company has drilled its test on the Thomas Cassidy farm through the Keener and has a duster. This test is located northwest of Woodsfield, and developed a 100-pound gas pressure in the Big Lime. In the same district, the Frances Oil Company has drilled its second test on the Robert Cooper farm through the Big Lime and has a duster in that formation, the first test on this farm started at 40 barrels a day when drilled into the same formation. In the new development, southeast of Jerusalem, in the same county, P. Gallagher has completed his test on the Stillwell Harper farm and has a duster in the Keener sand.

In the Newport district, Washington county, Kelly & Kennedy have completed their test on the Brown heirs' farm and have a light producer in the Berea grit. In the same district, the Rowland Farm Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the Good farm and has a 10-barrel pumper in the Cow Run sand. Green & Ihrig's No. 13 on the A. A. Noland farm and William Reader & Co.'s No. 3 on the G. Stephan farm are good for 10-barrels each in the Cow Run sand. In the Wolf Creek district, in the same county, the Pure Oil Producing Company has completed its No. 29 on the H. H. Greenlee farm and has a duster in the shallow sand.

Southwest of Burgettstown, Washington county, Pa., Lecomte & Co. have drilled in their test on the S. C. & J. Farrar farm and have a show for a 30-barrel producer. In the same district, R. G. Gillespie has completed his No. 9 on the J. S. Buchanan farm and has a 25-barrel producer. R. G. Gillespie has drilled his No. 3 on the G. S. Pate farm into the 30-foot and has a show for a 15 or 20-barrel pumper. This is the best showing made by any 30-foot well in the Burgettstown field. At Bridgeville, in the same county, the Philadelphia company has drilled its test on the Mrs. Joseph Hickman farm into the fifth sand and has a small gasser. In the Smiths Ferry district, Beaver county, the Midland division of the South Penn Oil Company has completed its tests on the William McGaffick and Moore Bros.' farms, and both are dry in all sands.

CLOTHING STRIKE ONLY DRAWBACK

Developments of Week Have Tended to Clear Atmosphere of Industrial World.

TRADE REVIEW OF DUN & CO.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 24.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

Aside from the strike of garment workers, developments of the past week have tended to strengthen confidence. One political convention has ended, and, although its action was almost a foregone conclusion, the industrial atmosphere is slightly clearer. The fiscal year is drawing to a close, with national finance in sound condition, the small shrinkage in federal customs receipts being no cause for uneasiness. The most important trade influence just now is the progress of the crops, and the past week has brought no setback. Seasonable weather has stimulated distribution of merchandise, retail business improving very noticeably at many cities, although it is not customary to find sales increasing at this time. Railway earnings thus far for June are surprisingly satisfactory, an increase over last year of 47 per cent being reported.

Few changes are noted in the situation at iron furnaces and steel mills. Nominally, the list of prices remain the same, although small concessions are reported on some orders that were not urgent, and the average of all products of the industry is a trifle lower because of the declines which were practically confined to pig iron. Taking the industry as a whole, reports are almost unanimous regarding the lack of new orders, but there is a wide diversity of opinion as to the future. Many authorities anticipate a revival in the fall; others believe that there will be no material change until spring, while July 1 is made the turning point by the most sanguine. Bituminous coal and coke feel the stagnation keenly, but hard coal is moving freely.

Footwear salesmen returning from western trips report a good sample business in spring shoes, but wholesalers are conservative regarding supplementary fall orders.

In the primary market for cotton goods further reduction in prices have occurred, chiefly staple lines or printed calicoes. Thus far the response to lower prices has been most discouraging.

New lines of lightweight woolens have been opened without changing conditions, but the closing of the heavyweight season has proved much better than anticipated. The raw wool market is very strong, despite small buying by the mills.

Failures this week numbered 227 in the United States, against 223 last year, and 32 in Canada, compared with 19 a year ago.

Pennsy Will Insist on Men Taking Two-Week Vacations

"The reports circulated during the week that the Pennsylvania railroad and lines west are to reduce the working forces in the clerical department has done an injustice to the road and has caused no end of worry among the clerks," said a Pennsylvania railroad official yesterday. "I believe that since May 1 there have been something like 75 men laid off in Philadelphia and a few may have been laid off in the various offices of the lines west."

The official thereupon explained what course is to be followed in retrenching as far as the clerks are concerned. It will be the policy of the Pennsylvania to give all departmental men a two weeks' vacation without pay and insist that the vacations be taken. Heretofore the employes have been allowed vacations, but they were optional. This summer they will be imperative.

No official announcement will be made to this effect but the heads of departments will be notified. The idea is said to have been the suggestion of President Cassatt. Officials in the east have denied that there will be a wholesale laying off of men.

It is said, however, that the passenger conductors will be given a two weeks' vacation with full pay, as usual, and this may create a little ill feeling among the other classes of employes.

Carnegie Invited to Outing.

In keeping with the custom of the Andrew Caregie division, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, that organization has extended an invitation to "the laird" to attend the annual outing. The affair will be held at Cascade park on Friday, July 22, but as Mr. Carnegie is at Skibo he will hardly "run over" for the occasion. The annual picnics of this division are the largest of their kind held in this district.

Small Crowds on Excursions.

Three roads, the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio and Reading-Lehigh, each of which had a coach excursion to St. Louis from New York and Philadelphia on Thursday, took from the latter city a total of 108 people. Of this number 47 went on the Pennsy, 42 by the Baltimore & Ohio and 19 by the Reading-Lehigh.

Murray Well Pleased.

Oscar G. Murray, president of the Baltimore & Ohio, who with other officials yesterday completed an inspection of the Pittsburgh terminals, said yesterday morning that he is well pleased with the condition of the terminals and the prospect for the early beginning of new work. The Glenwood improvements, he said, would be completed before the original time set. The party left in a special train at 9 o'clock for Fairmont and Clarksburg.

Railroad Notes.

John A. Murdoch, commercial agent of the Seaboard Air Line, has returned from a trip to the east.

W. F. Cloney, traveling passenger agent of the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company of Niagara Falls, is here in conference with local passenger men relative to the summer business. Division Passenger Agent C. O'D. Pascault of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, in connection with this navigation company, offers several of the itineraries.

FALLS FROM BRIDGE.

Painter Tumbles from High Tower, Is Rendered Unconscious, but Will Live.

NEW YORK, June 24.—(Special.)—William Donohue, a painter employed on the Brooklyn bridge, fell from that structure today into the river, but will recover.

Donohue was on the high tower of the bridge. The other men do not know how Donohue lost his balance, as they did not see him until he had fallen.

A ferryboat was almost directly under Donohue. Women screamed and fainted and many children were frightened. Donohue, however, hit the water and a skiff was lowered and the man taken aboard. Donohue did not regain his senses for several hours.

SALE OF STOCK RESULTS IN SUIT

Affairs of the Prudential Trust Company, Which Closed Its Doors, Get Into Court.

OPINIONS ARE HANDED DOWN

W. D. Johnston entered suit in court of common pleas No. 3 against Thomas A. Watkins of the Prudential Trust Company, which closed its doors a few days ago, to recover $26,471 25. This amount is alleged to be due on a note for $26,250 given by the defendant on January 22, 1904, to run four months.

With it were given 350 shares of the Prudential Trust Company as collateral security, with the provision that plaintiff could sell the stock in default of payment. The note was not paid at maturity, it is alleged, and the plaintiff, by the right vested in him by the clause, offered the stock for sale in the Pittsburgh stock exchange and sold the $350 shares for $350, the highest price obtainable, on June 24.

He charges the defendant $43 75 for the exchange expense of sale and credits him with the balance of the $350.

In answer to the rule issued by common pleas court No. 1, in the suit of Machin & Brown and others against the Prudential Trust Company, in which the execution was issued upon the plaintiff to show cause why the execution should not be stayed, Francis Shubert, one of the plaintiffs, denies the right of the City Trust, Safe Deposit and Surety Company of Philadelphia to interfere in the proceedings. The rule was granted on the plaintiff on the petition of the Philadelphia institution, which set forth it had obtained judgment against the plaintiffs for $750,000. The attachment executions on these judgments, Shubert says, were issued illegally and should not be effective.

The judgments, he says, were entered on bonds given by the Philadelphia institution, securing the completion of the Hamilton Court and the Belgravia apartment in Philadelphia, for which plaintiffs were the contractors. The bond on the former building was in the sum of $300,000 and on the latter $450,000. The buildings, it is alleged, were completed, no mechanic liens were filed against them and the contractors are in no wise liable to the Trust company, as it has suffered no harm or loss.

The Prudential Trust Company and the Mercantile Trust Company presented petitions asking the court to extend the time given them for complying with the act of assembly. They say that the possession of Sheriff J. W. Dickson prevents them from getting at the books. The Prudential is unable to file its statement of assets, etc., as required within five days, and the Mercantile, as assignee, cannot furnish its bond without having the value of the assets upon which to base it. The court granted the extension.

The Saw Mill Run Coal and Supply Company filed a bill in equity against the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company and the city of Pittsburgh, to restrain the River Coal company from interfering with the public dock near Eighth street, and to compel the city to operate the dock as one for the public.

It is alleged the defendant company blocked a recent attempt to unload several barges of the plaintiff by mooring other barges alongside and then maintained the blockade by threatening to do injury to anyone attempting to change the position of its boats.

Judge Shafer handed down several opinions. In the mandamus proceedings instituted against W. E. Newlin, city solicitor of McKeesport, by Catherine Soles, the court decides that certain municipal liens against property of Catherine Soles should be satisfied on the payment of $9,500. The action involved the validity of measures to the above effect passed by city councils.

The exceptions of Leila A. Cooper and others in the matter of the improvement of Meade avenue, Bellevue, are dismissed and the report of the viewers confirmed.

The suit of S. E. Moore, trustee, against the Monongahela Real Estate Corporation, in which a petition was filed by the defendant asking that the plaintiff show cause why the mechanic's lien filed in the case should not be stricken off, the court says he thinks the objection of the defendant is well taken, but as the plaintiff has asked leave to amend, the rule will be discharged if the amendment is made within 10 days. Similar decisions are made in the cases of Rodman L. Betts, Bateman, Smoot & Co. and Thomas Houlette.

DRURY CASE APPEALED.

District Attorney Young Wants Supreme Court to Pass on Soldiers' Rights.

In the United States circuit court yesterday before Judge Acheson, United States District Attorney Young took an appeal from the decision of Judge Acheson in the case of Lieut. Ralph W. District Attorney Young wants the case taken from the county to the United States supreme court. The defendants were in court, with their bondsman, Col. H. P. Bope, and their recognizance was changed from the county to the supreme court of the United States.

It is alleged Jahn, as a trusted agent, was called upon to assign the mortgage from Minehart, who held it, to Mrs. Minehart, but instead of transferring it Jahn is alleged to have satisfied it on the records.

Mayor Hays Sues for Fees.

Mayor Hays filed a stated case against the county of Allegheny for $1,055 which he says is due him as fees resulting from his position as mayor of Pittsburgh. The suit is brought under the act of May, 1861, which provides that the mayor shall receive $1,000 a year out of the county treasury and the mayor of Allegheny $250, as fees resulting from summary conviction arrests. He claims $1,000 for the year ending April 1, 1904, and $55 for a portion of the former year.

OPEN DOOR FOR THE CANAL ZONE

Imports of All Nations to Be Admitted Under Dingley Tariff Schedules.

POSTOFFICES ARE ESTABLISHED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Secretary Taft today issued an order making the terms of the Dingley act as to tariff rates applicable to the canal strip on the Isthmus of Panama. He also issued an order providing for the establishment of postoffices on the canal strip. The order relative to customs contains nine sections, prescribing minutely the regulations under which the service shall be conducted. Compendeously stated these are as follows:

The canal zone is declared open to the commerce of all friendly nations, imports therein to pay the established rates of duty and other charges. Two collection districts are created, that of Ancon, in the south, and of Crystobal in the north. The general administration of the customs service created by the order is placed in the hands of the governor of the canal zone, who is to be assisted by a collector in each district at a salary of $2,500 gold each. These collectors shall be appointed by the governor and confirmed by the isthmian canal commission. The governor is authorized to appoint and fix the salaries for the necessary deputy collectors, surveyors of customs and other subordinates and to make rules and regulations for the service subject to revision by the canal commission. The fifth section imposes Dingley tariff rates in the following terms:

Until otherwise provided by competent authority duties on importations into the canal zone are to be levied in conformity with such duties as congress has imposed upon foreign merchandise imported into other ports of the United States.

The order further provides that goods entering the canal zone from the United States or insular possessions of the United States shall be admitted on the same terms as at the ports of the states of this union.

All goods, free or dutiable, entering the canal zone by water, rail or otherwise for transportation across the zone must be entered at the custom house. An agreement is to be made between the governor of the zone and the government of Panama for co-operation to prevent smuggling and custom frauds. The government is authorized to make a tentative agreement with Panama respecting reciprocity trade relations between the zone and Panama, also to make up from tariff regulations subject to consideration by the commission and such action by competent authority as may be necessary to render the agreement effective in the canal zone.

The order providing for the establishment of postoffices in the zone and of service therein provides that such offices shall be established at Crystobal and Ancon (money order offices) and Gatun, Bouco, Gorgona, Basobispo, Empire, Cuelbra and La Boca. The governor of the zone is to appoint postmasters and fix salaries and to formulate a plan for the postal service founded on the United States system, all subject to the approval of the commission. Meanwhile he may establish postoffices at such additional places as the public interests require and appoint their postmasters.

Secretary Taft has already addressed letters to Postmaster General Payne and to Admiral Walker, president of the canal commission, intended to give immediate effect to his order. Gen. Davis, the governor of the zone, has cabled that he must have immediate postal service in the zone. Secretary Taft, therefore, informed the postmaster general that acting postmasters have been appointed already at the nine towns above mentioned, and requested his co-operation in the establishment of an efficient postal service in the zone.

The Start

In married life is generally made on an equal footing of health in man and wife. But how soon, in many cases, the wife loses the advantage and fades in face and fails in flesh, while her husband grows even more rugged and robust.

There is one chief cause for this wifely failure and that is, the failure of the womanly health. When there is irregularity or an unhealthy drain, inflammation, ulceration or female weakness, the general health is soon impaired.

$500 REWARD! FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"A little over a year ago I wrote to you for advice," says Mrs. Elizabeth J. Fisher, of Diana, W. Va. "You advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which I did, and with the most happy result. I was troubled with female weakness and bearing-down pains. Had a very bad pain nearly all the time in my left side, nervousness and headache. Was so weak I could hardly walk across my room. Could not sit up only just a little while at a time. My husband got me some of Dr. Pierce's medicine and I began its use. Before I had taken two bottles I was able to help do my work. I used three bottles in all and it cured me. Now I do all my housework. It is the best medicine I ever used."

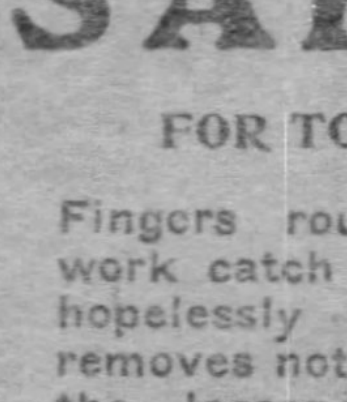
From Pimples to Scrofula, from Infancy to Age

Speedily Cured by Cuticura when All Else Fails.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalled head; the facial disfigurements, as in acne and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants and anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter and salt-rheum—all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy, have made them the standard skin cures, blood purifiers and humour remedies of the civilized world.

Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry, without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to allay itching, irritation and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and, lastly, take Cuticura Resolvent, to cool and cleanse the blood. This complete local and constitutional treatment affords instant relief, permits rest and sleep in the severest forms of eczema and other itching, burning and scaly humours of the skin, scalp and blood, and points to a speedy, permanent and economical cure when all else fails.

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Resolvent, 50c. (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c per vial of 60), Ointment, 50c., Soap, 25c. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Boston, 137 Columbus Ave. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Proprietors. Send for "How to Cure Every Humour."



PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
